APATHY RETARDING PROGRESS OF CITY CHALLENGES MAYOR

Chief Magistrate Speaks Plainly on Present Situation and Tells Citizens That New Wealth Is in Evidence If Opportunity Is Seized—
Tourist Trade Is Solution

MAYOR David Leeming, recently returned from a visit to Eastern Canada, spoke bluntly to Victoria citizens at a representative meeting of the advisory committee of the Tourist Trade Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night. Progress was being retarded here by a spirit of apathy and self-complacency while new wealth was awaiting encouragement to come to the city. The answer to the question as to whether Victoria would advance was up to the citizens, he said.

Apathy, declared His Worship was crippling the city, and was standing solidly in the way of its development and progress. Victoria had ceased, years ago, to be a factor in the manufacturing and industrial life of Canada. It had an assured future, however, if there was an awakening of the consciousness of the people to the fact that by prompt and concerted action a new era of prosperity could be induced.

SUPPORT NEEDED
"The question is," he challenged, "are the people of Victoria prepared to take steps to find a way out of the present impasse, or are they satisfied with the present situation? Without whole-hearted public support, the Tourist Trade Development movement is doomed to failure, and failure now will relegate the movement to the discard for years to come," he warned.

Former Mayor Carl Pendray stoutly supported His Worship's summary of the situation. Years ago, he declared, Victoria had been

SOVIET BUILDS GOLD RESERVE

Shipping Thousands of Ton. Of Auriferous Ore to Tacoma Smelter

TACOMA, April 1 (AP).—Soviet Russia, building up a vast gold reserve in the United States, has started shipping shipments of auriferous ore to the giant smelter here, which poured out "pigs" of gold, silver and copper to help the land of Stalin.

The smelter at Ruston, a plant of the American Smelting & Refining Company, is a haven for Russian ore because it is the only smelter on Pacific Coast tidewater, and is said to be particularly adapted for reduction of Soviet minerals.

FOR FINANCIAL RESERVE

The Edmworth brought the first spring shipment—7,300 tons of gold, silver and copper ore—from Odessa, on the Black Sea, in continuation of the Soviet policy of building up financial reserves in America despite difficulties that followed preliminary recognition, and failure of trade negotiations.

Soviets send ships with 15,000-mile journeys with gold ore because there are only three smelters on the Pacific Coast, one in Chile and one at Granby, B.C., the other at Tacoma. The Tacoma plant employs some 800 men, purchases supplies averaging three and a half million a year and puts out 500,000 ounces of gold and silver a month.

OPENING OF MINES

"It is possible that during 1935 the Soviet will ship 100,000 tons of ore worth 7,000,000 to Tacoma," said S. L. Raine, chemical engineer and agent of Amtorg Trading Company of Russia, in an interview in which he emphasized that Russia is opening its gold mines as fast as possible.

DETAILS RETURNS FROM NEW TAXES

Increased Levy on Tea Yields $5,658,000—Large Sums From Telegrams and Telephones

OTTAWA, April 1 (CP).—Since its inception in 1931 the increased tax on tea has brought $5,658,181 into the Dominion Treasury, a return tabled today in the House of Commons said. Answering a series of questions on sums accruing to the Treasury as a result of increased taxation since the present administration came into office, the return gave these figures:

Increase in newspaper postage, $952,251; 1 per cent tax on net premiums received by insurance companies, $2,273,034; automobiles, $537,128; oranges, $4,874,138; canned fruits, $1,063,195; canned vegetables, $239,242; hops, $562,193; seeds, $578,180; telegrams, $906,405; telegrams and long-distance telephone calls, $2,737,810; railway sleepers, $1,129,017.

HEADED FOR WORLD COURT

Lithuania Putting Blame on Germany After Warning Of Three Powers

GENEVA, April 1 (AP).—With a three-power warning to Lithuania disclosed in London dispatches, it appeared likely tonight that the trouble with Germany over the mandated Memel Territory is headed for the World Court of Justice.

Unconfirmed Warsaw dispatches, quoting the newspaper Ilustrowany Codzenny, said Reichswehr and storm troops were being concentrated on the German frontier and construction of fortifications was being actively pushed.

HOPE FOR ARBITRATION
League circles were hopeful that arbitration would be instituted in view of the fact that Lithuania informed Geneva today she will renounce for five years her acceptance of compulsory arbitration in the World Court.

Germany adhered to this clause in 1933. Poland never adhered to it although she is bound by court procedure under the Locarno agreements in any dispute arising out of the minority treaties.

The three-power protest to Lithuania was disclosed in London official quarters to have been made on March 13 by Britain, France and Italy.

The whole trouble arose out of the action of a Lithuanian military court in sentencing ninety-one Nazis convicted of plotting to seize Memel in behalf of Germany. Four were condemned to death, causing bitter and violent protest in Germany.

BLAMING GERMANY
KAUNAS, Lithuania, April 1 (AP).—The Lithuanian Government was preparing an answer tonight to the three-power warning sent by Britain, France and Italy concerning the Memel situation, quarters close to the Government said. It was stated the answer will lay all of Memel's problems on Germany.

The breach of the Memel statute referred to in the note, it was said, will be tacitly admitted, but Germany will be held responsible therefor.

FREAK ACCIDENT FATAL TO ROBIN

Bird in Flight Decapitated by Golf Ball During Friendly Match at Colwood

A sad but unusual accident happened yesterday at Royal Colwood Golf Club links when a robin in flight was decapitated by a golf ball. Dave Randall, well-known Victoria golfer, was playing a friendly match with Fred B. Richardson, and it was his shot that caused the fatality. Mr. Randall drove off from the twelfth tee. His second shot was with a spoon and the ball, after going about fifty yards, struck the unfortunate robin in the neck. The headless bird soared for twenty-five yards after being struck while the ball continued on for another ninety yards, enabling Mr. Randall to hole out in a par five.

Humor of Polish Consul Sorely Tried by Jokers

WINNIPEG, April 1 (CP).—The humor of Jan Pawlica, Consul for Poland, was sorely tried today. A bear drove up in front of the Polish Consul office and two sober-faced undertakers paraded into the office and asked for the body. Mr. Pawlica didn't have a body for them.

Police Guard Quintuplets

Provincial police officers have been stationed outside the Dionne Hospital at Callander, Ontario, to guard the famous quintuplet sisters from those who would attempt to spirit them across the border to the United States, where they would be safe from the guardianship of the Government. Rumors of kidnapping caused this step. The two officers, W. Noyes, left, and J. W. McCord, right, standing guard at the doorway.

Victoria Seeks Good Roads for Whole of Island

Chamber of Commerce Endorses Nanaimo's Efforts to Hasten Work and Appoints Committee to Urge Larger Expenditures on Highways and Fair Share of Appropriations

NOT only is the Victoria Chamber of Commerce ready to back the Nanaimo Board of Trade in its efforts to have the Government improve the main highways of Vancouver Island before the tourist season commences, but it intends to send a strong committee to Hon. Frank M. MacPherson to seek justice for the island in the expenditure of capital outlay on roads.

TO INVESTIGATE RELIEF CAMPS

Commission Appointed to Inquire Into Management and Administration

OTTAWA, April 1 (CP).—Conditions in relief camps for single unemployed in British Columbia will be investigated by a commission appointed under the Inquiries Act. Minister of Defence George Stirling announced today in the House of Commons.

The commission will be composed of former Chief Justice Hon. W. A. Macdonald, of British Columbia, chairman; Charles T. McHattie and Rev. E. D. Braden, all of Vancouver.

NUMEROUS COMPLAINTS
Appointment of the commission was approved in an order-in-council signed today. It follows numerous complaints against management and administration of camps maintained in British Columbia, as in all the provinces, to care for unemployed transient unemployed. The situation in the British Columbia camps has been the subject of much discussion in the House of Commons.

The commission will have power and instructions to "inquire into conditions obtaining and any and all complaints which have been made with respect to the administration and management of the camps established by the Department of National Defence in British Columbia, and to report on such matters with all due speed." It will sit in such places in British Columbia as deemed necessary for the purposes of the inquiry.

EMPERORS TO MEET

HSINKING, Manchukuo, April 2 (AP).—Amidst all the pomp and pageantry at the command of the new Manchukuo Imperial court and the Japanese army, Emperor Kang Teh departed early today on his first trip "abroad" to Tokio, where he will thank Emperor Hirohito for Japan's part in the establishment of the "Empire of Manchukuo."

Then a second hearse arrived and another body was demanded. There still wasn't one. A third arrived and later a fourth arrived. And at this stage the staff talked about fixing one of the undertakers for burial purposes.

In Poland, commented Mr. Pawlica, fools are not permitted to run rampant, not even on April 1.

ATE SLED DOG BUT DEATH WON

Commissioner Met Lonely End in Northern Wilds After Desperate Fight for Life

Eating one of his sled dogs to maintain life after his stores had run out, B. J. Jorstad, fifty-seven-year-old former Teelander, fought a courageous battle with British Columbia frontier life last winter, and lost.

His dogs fled, his food gone, snow blocking all passes to civilization, Jorstad died at a place on the trail within 100 yards of his cabin some time in February last. The remains were buried yesterday afternoon by the Provincial Police.

Jorstad's cabin lay 300 miles north of Telegraph Creek, far removed from all settlements. No word of the man's plight was learned until Hudson's Bay Company trading post officials discovered his body on February 28 last.

DIED OF STARVATION

The left foot was frozen, and the body much emaciated from starvation. Around the camp were traces of the desperate efforts made by the man to win through to aid. The trading post officials reported to the Provincial Police, and left the camp undisturbed.

Provincial officers munched north from Telegraph Creek to the scene, checked the facts, and reported yesterday by wireless to headquarters of the force here. Jorstad's body was given honorable burial at Iron Creek.

HURRICANE CAUSES HAVOC

TEGUIGALPA, Honduras, April 1 (AP).—Dispatches from the interior said tonight a hurricane had struck the town of Villavieja, Sunday, seriously damaging public buildings, sweeping houses into ruins and causing havoc in the banana plantations of the Cortes Zone.

British Peace Envoy Cordially Welcomed In "Buffer" Country

Capt. Anthony Eden Starts Conversations Today With Polish Leaders

TALKS IN RUSSIA
GIVE SATISFACTION

WARSAW, April 1 (AP).—Capt. Anthony Eden, Great Britain's Lord Privy Seal and traveling peace envoy, brought to the capital of this "buffer" country tonight Russia's and Germany's plans regarding European security, and found a cordial welcome in Poland.

Arriving from Moscow he was greeted by Polish authorities and the British Embassy staff. It was reported that Eden will convey to Marshal Joseph Pilsudski and Polish leaders tomorrow a suggestion to Russia that the Eastern Locarno Pact proposal be split into Baltic and Danubian agreements.

TO TAKE THE LEAD
The aged Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, War Minister and virtual dictator of Poland, will take the lead in the conversations, with Foreign Minister Joseph Beck assuming an active role.

A spokesman of the Foreign Office emphasized that Eden's visit is exploratory in nature and that Poland has not changed her official view to the point of making demands.

LONDON, April 1 (CP).—A distinct strengthening of opinion in Government quarters that Britain should take an active part in a European security system instead of simply promoting an underwriting of it was noted tonight in diplomatic circles.

This was largely owing to the outcome of the Berlin conversations and Capt. Anthony Eden's reports of the Moscow visit. No Government decision was expected until after the stress conference.

Canada to Benefit by New Pact

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP).—President Roosevelt today proclaimed the recently signed Belgian-United States reciprocal trade agreement, effective May 1, and at the same time designed that benefits in the act be extended to all countries with certain specified limitations.

Canada, The Netherlands, Spain, Switzerland and Liechtenstein, with whom the United States is now negotiating trade agreements—are granted all concessions given in the Belgian pact for six months pending the conclusion of negotiations for new pacts now in progress.

HELPING BLIND TO READ PRINTED BOOKS

MOSCOW, April 1 (CP).—An announcement today said Professor A. G. Goldman of the Soviet Ukraine had invented an "electric eye" by means of which the blind, with their fingers, would be able to read ordinary printed books.

The apparatus, equipped with lenses, moves over print and projects images of letters onto a photo-electric cell, he explained. The cell changes the images into electric impulses which cause vibrations on a special desk designed for this purpose.

Three Convicted of White Slavery in Court at Vancouver

Joe Celona, Clarence Bancroft and Ellen Joyce Found Guilty of Leading Two Girls to Life of Shame—Sentences Reserved

VANCOUVER, April 1 (CP).—Joe Celona, Clarence Bancroft and Ellen Joyce were convicted on two counts of a procuring charge by an Assize Court jury here tonight. The trio were charged with procuring a sixteen-year-old girl and a twenty-one-year-old girl to become prostitutes.

Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald presided over the trial, and by a presentation of the defence of Celona by his counsel, Stuart Henderson.

"Gentlemen of the jury, the evidence in this case is so horrifying that we must be careful to consider the case entirely on the evidence and free from any bias or prejudice whatever," Mr. Justice McDonald said.

His Lordship defined the offence of procuring and said that the only defence of the accused by Dugald

Concluding Railway Sale

What is looked upon as the "worst bargain in Russia's history" is being signed here in the Tokio home of Koki Hirota, Foreign Minister of Japan. Under its provisions Manchukuo is getting Russia's right to the Chinese Eastern Railway. Russia in return gets $39,200,000, plus another eight million to pay off employees who will be discharged. From left to right, seated, Stepan Kuznetsov, vice-president of the C. E. R., who acted as Russia's negotiator; Constantin Yurenev, Soviet ambassador to Tokio; Koki Hirota, Foreign Minister of Japan; W. S. Y. Motion Is Passed In Ottawa House Denouncing War

Henri Bourassa Sponsors Resolution—Says Canada's Major Problems Bound Up With Those of United States—Minister Warns Against Uselessness of Proclaimed Neutrality

OTTAWA, April 1 (CP).—While European war lords rattle their sabres and call troops to the colors, the Canadian House of Commons tonight reiterated its denunciation of war as a means of settling international problems.

With one voice the House passed a motion sponsored by Henri Bourassa, one of Canada's oldest and stormiest political figures reaffirming the Kellogg-Briand renunciation of war and instructing the Government to lend its support to all agencies working for peace.

URGES INVESTIGATION

Liberal Leader Mackenzie King embraced the occasion to propose that Canada lead the way in exposing armament manufacturers. He urged an investigation into the manufacture, distribution and sale of war implements which would be an example to other Empire countries and the world at large, "with results of great benefit to mankind."

Minister of Justice Hugh Guthrie accepted the Bourassa motion on behalf of the Government, but he dissented from many of the arguments used by the old nationalist leader. He accused Mr. Bourassa of "an unending-for-dinner" against the United Kingdom and of relying too much on Washington for the defence of Canada.

The Minister of Justice sounded one warning: It would be simple for Canada to proclaim neutrality in a

BRITISH FLYER BREAKS RECORD

H. L. Brook Flies Alone From Australia to England In Seven Days

LONDON, April 1 (CP).—H. L. Brook, British airman who has just established a new record for the solo flight from Australia, thinks there is "nothing to it."

Brook, whose time of seven days 19 hours and 50 minutes eclipsed the record of C. J. Melrose, of Australia, said the whole trip was uneventful. The weather was rough and visibility bad on the crossing of the Timor Sea, Brook admitted, but he said he was too intent on reaching the other side as quickly as possible to notice anything unusual.

FORCED DOWN IN INDIA

He experienced difficulty in India and was forced to land on the delta near Calcutta owing to bad weather, landing on sand with water all around, but the surface was smooth and he made a good landing and take-off.

Brook said the worst stretch was near Athens, when terrific headwinds cut down his speed and put him off schedule. His longest hop was 1,700 miles between Jodhpur and Badra, but the weather aided him on this lap.

Culbertsons Still Lead in Bridge Game

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP).—After a see-saw evening session in which Mr. and Mrs. Hal Sims took three rubbers to two for Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson, the bridge match at Crockerford's Club adjourned after the fifty-second rubber tonight, with the Culbertsons still 5,940 points in the lead.

This total was 3,440 points below the Culbertsons led when the match took a week-end recess Friday, the disparity representing a healthy score registered by the Sims' team this afternoon when six of eight rubbers went to the couple from Deal, N.J.

ARBITRATION IS REQUEST OF ETHIOPIA

Note Sent to League of Nations Protesting Military Measures

GOOD INTENTIONS
ARE REASSERTED

GENEVA, April 1 (CP-Havas).—Protesting that mobilization in Africa of Italian troops and war materials has brought a new phase into the Italo-Ethiopian frontier negotiations at Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian Government today addressed another note to the League of Nations asking arbitration.

The action was based on Article V of its treaty with Italy, signed in 1928. Ethiopia wants arbitration facilities set up in Geneva, Paris or London within thirty days.

NOT JUSTIFIED

As in former notes, the Ethiopian Minister in Paris, Teclé Hawariat said the military measures taken by Italy in Africa, including sending a prominent military commander to take charge, are in no way justified by movements which the Italian Government alleged Ethiopia has made.

The note reasserts Ethiopia's good intentions, as expressed in numerous communications to Italy, and observes it is not Ethiopia's fault that a neutral zone has not been created between Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland.

The Ethiopian note suggests that, if arbitration is not arranged within the time specified, the Council of the League of Nations specify a procedure in accordance with existing treaties.

TO REPUDIATE POWER DEALS

Ontario Government to Introduce Bills to End Four Electric Contracts

TORONTO, April 1 (CP).—The Ontario Government took the first step today to repudiate power purchase contracts negotiated by the former Hydro-Electric Power Commission with four Quebec power companies.

Confessing he faced "the most difficult task that has ever been mine in my nine years of public life," Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn introduced in the Legislature a bill, the Hydro-Electric Power Commission Act, 1935, which declared contracts with the Gatineau Power Company, the Beauharnois Light, Heat & Power Company, Ottawa Valley Power Company and James MacLaren Company were "illegal, void and unenforceable."

WILL NOT BE BOUND

Ontario, however, will continue to purchase power from Gatineau under the existing contracts, the Premier said, but will not be bound by the terms of the contract. The contracts with the other three companies will be terminated when the bill receives Royal assent.

The Government based its action on the contention that the contracts were negotiated by the commission without the consent of the municipalities it served, contrary to the Power Commission Act and without regard to the provisions of the British North America Act.

ITALY STRONG IN AIR AND ON LAND

Fifteen Hundred Airplanes Ready At Moment's Notice—Trained Army of Millions

ROME, April 1 (AP).—Fifteen hundred military airplanes, swift and newly-tooled, could darken Italian skies at a moment's notice in the event of a war cloud rolling down from beyond the Alps, air preparation statistics revealed today.

This is coupled with War Department estimates that Italy could put an army of 7,938,000 trained men between the ages of twenty-one and fifty-four into the field, announced simultaneously with the calling of the military class of 1914 to the colors—250,000 strong.

The exact figure for available effectiveness in the air is 1,507 military planes, not including new units known to be planned.

SALARIES ARE RESTORED

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP).—Salaries of Government employees were restored today to their pre-depression level, adding an estimated $65,000,000 annually to the Federal payroll.

Witness States Coal Was Mined At Loss in 1934

Commission Hears Evidence on Working Costs and Values of Equipment—Lengthy Cross-Examination Made on Technical Points—Session Expected to Last at Least Week More

NANAIMO, April 1.—Giving evidence before the commission on the coal and petroleum products of British Columbia's third day session here today, Pat Fagan, assistant secretary for the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir), Ltd., since 1917, stated that during 1934 the Western Fuel Company, subsidiary of the Canadian Collieries, had mined coal at a total cost of $6.02 and had realized from sales $5.17 per ton—a loss of 85 cents per ton.

He was the last witness of the afternoon, and had statements prepared showing operating cost, sales, etc., for 1932-33-34. The other statements will be taken up at Tuesday's session.

NOT ENDING SOON

It is expected that inquiry will last at least another week, with perhaps a few days additional.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, or laxative candy or chewing gum, and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your sour and out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't look for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. See at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

This Job Required Skill

Somebody in Eastern United States ordered fifteen cedar poles, each more than 100 feet long, from C. L. M. Giggey, in Terrace, B.C. British Columbia had the trees, but how to get them out was a tough problem. However, Giggey was equal to the task, and the above picture shows how he did it. He built up platforms on two trucks and contrived to get the poles down the steep and winding roads without a hitch.

Opera Stars Turn to Lighter Variety of Artistic Expression

Surprise Party on Stage of Metropolitan Opera House Shows Retiring Gatti-Casazza What His Talented Performers Really Can Do

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP).—The likeness of Giulio Gatti-Casazza was flashed on the screen. Cheers and applause roared through the Metropolitan Opera House. The ovation merged into the strains of "Auld Lang Syne." The audience stood and sang.

STAGE SHOW IS WELL RECEIVED

Home Gas Optimists Play to Crowded House—Repeat Concert All This Week

Victoria again, last night, opened its heart to British Columbia's most popular concert party—the Home Gas Optimists.

Playing to a crowded house at the City Temple, the two-hour show was greeted with unstinted applause. Frank C. Anders, master of ceremonies, kept the show moving along, while Calvin Winter directed the six-piece orchestra in band in incidental music.

"Evolution of Jazz," tracing the rise of this type of music, opened the show and also served to introduce members of the cast. Popular tunes from 1910 until 1935 were presented. Everton Court, Isabelle McEwan and Ernest J. Colton offered a comedy interpretation of a satire on the English language written by Mr. Court. "Literally Speaking," Ken Fraser, singing drummer, sang "Can't You Hear Me Calling, Caroline."

DANCE TEAM IMPRESSIVE

The appearance of the Haight dancing team, Kenny and Isabella, was well received in all dance routines, which included a waltz, tango, soft shoe and interpretive numbers. Ernest J. Colton and Isabelle McEwan, featured singers with the organization, took the audience by storm. Mr. Colton's baritone voice and his comedy flair both met with hearty response, while Miss McEwan's soprano, acclaimed by leading radio critics in the West, was as faultless as ever.

Emerton Court made his only solo appearance in an act titled "Impersonations," in which, by clever application of make-up and understanding of the characteristics of his subjects, he recreated stage and screen stars and national figures. Comedy was liberally sprinkled between the acts and all of it was good.

TO REPEAT SHOW

Winston Shilcock presented a moving picture of the history of Vancouver Island and Victoria. The show will be repeated every night this week at 8:30 o'clock, and on Saturday a special children's matinee will be given. Miss Pat Petherbridge, Home Gas candidate in the May 24 Queen contest here, was introduced. Thomas MacPherson, local manager of Home Oil, introduced the group to the audience. Those in the band were Gerry Hughes, Ken Fraser, Jack Emerson, Harold Russell, Roy Barry and John Muriel.

VICTORIA SEEKS GOOD ROADS FOR ISLAND

voiced the sentiment of the meeting when he asserted that this was not adequate to the needs of the Island, and he suggested that the Government be asked to reconsider the apportionment.

George McGregor tersely summed up the situation when he remarked: "Unless something is done immediately with the roads, it will require more than 16 per cent of three millions to repair them later."

Frank Partridge, in further commenting on the state of the main highways, expressed the opinion that it would be the part of wise economy for the Government to establish a policy of hard-surfacing the roads.

It was finally decided to appoint a committee to wait on the Minister of Public Works.

POPE WARNS AGAINST WAR

Pontiff Believes Hostilities Impossible—Says Conflict Would Be Great Crime

VATICAN CITY, April 1 (AP).—Pope Pius today quoted the words of Jesus Christ: "You shall hear of wars and seditions," and called on the world to emulate the Apostles on the Sea of Galilee who cried: "O Lord, save us, lest we perish!"

The seventy-eight-year-old Pontiff gathered twenty cardinals about him in secret consistory and told them he knew the nations were talking of war but that he believed war to be "impossible," because:

"It would be so enormous a crime, such a foolish manifestation of fury, that we cannot persuade ourselves that those who should have at heart the prosperity and well-being of the people wish to push to suicide, ruin and extermination not only their own nation but a great part of humanity."

To us, as to many others, there is manifest the physical and material impossibility of war in the present most serious circumstance.

WITH "TERRIBLE CALM" The allocution was delivered by the Pope with what prelates present afterward described as "terrible calm."

The Pontiff said if there were some one who wished to commit "this nefarious crime" of war, he could do nothing else than pray to God to "destroy those people who desire war," but he proclaimed three days of public prayer at Lourdes, France, so that God "might illuminate the minds of those who have in their hands the government and fate of peoples in the present sad anxiety of a time which leads to fear for a still sadder future."

He said that at this moment, "the clamor of war is universally diffused and is the cause of agitation to all and it arouses in everyone the greatest fear."

"Enormous crime" would result, he said, if "the peoples once more take up arms one against the other, and if once more the blood of brothers is spilled and destruction and ruin are spread on the earth and in the sea and in the sky."

The assembled cardinals approved the canonization of Sir Thomas More, King Henry VIII's Chancellor, and Bishop John Fisher, of England, who were executed for opposing Henry's marriage to Anne Boleyn. They also approved the Pope's nomination of Cardinal Pacelli as Camerlengo—Papal Chamberlain.

TO BE PRESENT AT OPERA HERE

Governor-General and Party To Attend "Il Trovatore" On Friday Evening

"Il Trovatore," an opera that has delighted audiences for almost a full century, is to be produced here on Friday, April 5, at the Empress Hotel, by the Victoria Philharmonic Society under the direction of Basil Horsfall.

The opera is to be given in concert form and will have a chorus of fifty voices supporting an exceptionally well balanced cast and an orchestra of twenty-five pieces, and will be produced in its entirety.

The society is very fortunate in being chosen to give this presentation before such distinguished personages as His Excellency the Earl of Bessborough, the Countess of Bessborough, Lady Moyra Ponsonby and members of the Governor-General's party, now in residence at Government House, the guests of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. J. W. Fordham Johnson.

The concert is being presented for the benefit of the Cancer Research Fund, originated by His Majesty King George as a part of the celebration programme attending his silver jubilee.

A large audience is expected to be present at the concert and those attending will be able to take part in the welcome to the Governor-General's party now making a farewell tour of the Dominion. His Excellency retires from the post shortly and is to be succeeded by John Buchan, the author.

APATHY RETARDING CHALLENGES MAYOR

the recognized manufacturing and distributing centre of British Columbia, but changing conditions had shifted that centre to the Mainland. As Mayor Leeming had pointed out, there was a prosperous future ahead of Victoria, if the citizens so willed. It was to be found in the tourist trade, and he was heartily behind the plan inaugurated by Mayor Leeming and entirely in accord with his appeal to the business men and citizens generally to make that prosperity possible.

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., declared himself as being decidedly sold on the Mayor's plan, that he was convinced that Victoria was not designed for a manufacturing centre, and that its future lay in the tourist business, for which it had unique advantages. The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau was doing splendid work in bringing the tourist to the Island; but the aim of the Tourist Trade Development Association was to provide inducements for visitors to prolong their stay. The whole scheme, in his opinion, was a splendid investment, and the nucleus of a major industry for Victoria and Vancouver Island.

T. H. Eslick discounted any suggestion of failure. He was satisfied that the scheme would meet with popular support. It was estimated that the tourist business was worth

For, he said, must be redoubled if the city was to remain in the picture as a tourist centre, and to continue to participate in that highly profitable business. Its importance to the taxpayer, he added, could not be overestimated.

Other speakers were R. H. B. Ker, T. O. Mackay, Fred McGregor and W. F. Pinfold, all of whom urged an energetic campaign to arouse public interest.

Reindeer Herder Back In Civilization After Five Years of Hardship

Andy Bahr Reaches Edmonton on Way Home After Driving Herd From Alaska to Delta of Mackenzie River—Endured Severe Weather That Forced Even Eskimos to Quit

By MAX MILLER
(Copyright, 1935, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

EDMONTON, April 1.—For the first time in almost six years, Andy Bahr is walking around on paved streets, and at night is trying not to count reindeer in his sleep. The little man, who on the Christmas of 1929 departed into the wilderness from the west coast of Alaska with 3,000 reindeer and who this month managed to deliver 2,370 of them to the starving Eskimos of northwest Canada, arrived here yesterday in a snow-coated plane from the rim of the Arctic Ocean.

The storms which for five years had pursued him and his herd along the Arctic wild lands seemed reluctant to see him go, and so grounded his plane time after time in its efforts to bring him back to civilization.

"Bless me," he said, on stepping out of the plane to a snow-coated field, "bless me, but this is a big city." The fact that the temperature was about 30 above at the time received no comment from him whatsoever. Also, a stiff northwest wind was holding the hangar-sock out at a stiff right angle.

FACE AND FINGERS FROZEN
Yet, no wonder that polite conversation about the weather failed to hold his interest, since, during one winter of his drive, the Arctic rim had undergone its severest weather in seventeen years, according to authorities. Bahr's face was frozen during this ordeal. Not frost-bitten, but frozen. So were all the fingers on his left hand.

These were the days when some of his Eskimo help had been obliged to turn back on him and run back to cover, and these were the perpetual Arctic nights when 50 and 60 below was a matter of course, and when Andy tramped the gloomy wilderness in triple pants.

His luggage consists almost exclusively of one huge canvas bag, filled for the most part with worn-out muk-luks, Eskimo boots, and he dumped them all out on the floor in his warm hotel room.

"Goodbye to you and to you and bathtub, and there he remained almost an hour, trying to soak the Arctic off of him. He has been warned that, on reaching Seattle, a big dinner is to be given for him and Crowley. But when told that reindeer meat was to be served the guests as a novelty, he merely smiled that strange little Lapp smile again over a thin goatee.

On entering the hotel, and all bottled up in his reindeer skins, Bahr immediately searched for a place to get away from staring eyes. He had quite forgotten all about such items as elevators, so started up the stairs.

Crowley says he would just as soon never see a reindeer again, but Bahr is of a different mind.

"I've been with reindeer all my life," Bahr said, "so a few more will not hurt me." And for a fact, he was born in the open on a reindeer range sixty-one years ago. This was in Lapland, his parents having been reindeer people also.

He was brought to the United States in 1898 to help care for the reindeer imported from Northern Norway at that time as food for the hard-smitten miners of the Yukon. On his journey through Seattle at that time, he slept in the city's park with his deer.

SURPLUS CATCH MAY BE FROZEN

Fishermen Believe Alaska Banks Can Take Care Of Extra Fish

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, April 1. (AP).—Alaska halibut fishermen today were considering a plan whereby Alaska and Seattle banks might be prevailed upon to finance the freezing of surplus catches this season.

Fishermen here believe Alaska banks can finance the freezing of 4,000,000 pounds of the fish and Seattle and other banks in Washington might finance the freezing of surpluses of the fleet on Puget Sound.

The Alaska and Puget Sound fleets still were in port, although the season opened a month ago. Fishermen refused to go to the fishing banks when brokers refused to set a minimum price.

City Hall Figures Show Improvement In Overdue Taxes

A REAR tax collections at the City Hall show an increase of almost 25 per cent over those of last year. This, with the large jump in building figures and prepaid taxes, is taken as a sure indication by civic officials of improving business conditions in Greater Victoria.

Up to the end of March, $44,287.03 was paid in on taxes overdue from 1933 and 1934. At the corresponding period last year $35,441.06 was collected, $8,845.97 less than current figures.

MISSIVE IS MYSTERIOUS

Message Moves by Miraculous Means to Mingling Among the Meteors

LADYSMITH, April 1.—Probably the inhabitants of Mars or Venus are now reading about the Fraser River Bridge controversy, or the state of affairs in Europe.

At any rate, a message in the form of a newspaper sheet left the earth on Saturday morning and disappeared in the general direction of the nearer planets.

There was no breeze at all when the paper rose slowly from an empty lot, and, after fluttering in an undetermined fashion for a moment, proceeded with a rapidly-accelerating motion up towards the south-west heavens. In a few minutes it was a mere speck in the blue, and a moment later had vanished from sight.

E. T. Reid, city electrician, who witnessed the phenomenon while on meter-reading rounds, thinks a petition of some kind is probably written on the big sheet.

LADYSMITH APPOINTS LIBRARY COMMITTEE

LADYSMITH, April 1.—Dr. Helen Gordon, directing the Carnegie demonstration of the Provincial Library commission, met a representative body of local citizens on Thursday evening in the council chamber, to discuss plans for the formation of a regional public library on Vancouver Island.

The committee appointed at the conclusion of the meeting includes: Miss B. Tranfield, Miss K. Hill, Messrs. Grantham, E. Akenhead and R. S. Wood.

This committee has power to appoint library representatives from the various groups and organizations in the city and school district.

HEALTH COSTS UP FOR YEAR

Further Increase Expected for 1935, Medical Health Officer Says

Continued physical well-being of the community is largely due to increased practice of personal and family hygiene, bodily cleanliness, home tidiness, ventilation, exercise, fresh air and sun baths, according to Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer, in his report for 1934.

Per capita cost of health activities for 1934 was $1.03, as compared with $1.02 for 1933 and $1.05 for an average of the preceding five years. Last year there were several large unforeseen items, including the increase of 100 per cent, in cost of medicine for indigent cases, employment of a ratcatcher, extra nursing at the Isolation Hospital, and other expenses incidental to the outbreak of scarlet fever. Dr. Felton estimates that the per capita cost for 1935 will be about $1.10, which compares favorably with other Canadian cities of the same size as Victoria.

Reportable diseases during the year included 128 of scarlet fever, sixty whooping cough, three erysipelas, 161 chicken pox, eighteen rubella, and 105 cases of mumps.

CAUSES OF DEATH
Dr. Felton points out that circulatory diseases caused 36 per cent of all deaths; cancer, 17 per cent; cerebral haemorrhage, 6.4 per cent; respiratory diseases, 5 per cent; pulmonary tuberculosis, 4.6 per cent; kidney diseases, 3.6 per cent, and accidental causes, 3.4 per cent. There were only eight deaths through automobile accidents. The average age at death was sixty-one years, considerably higher than any other Canadian city.

"It is becoming more and more recognized that a large part of the duty of a health department lies in the spread of knowledge regarding personal and family hygiene. With this in view, I have sought an increase in the grant to the Victorian Order of Nurses so that they may extend their routine services, particularly along the line of home isolation and quarantine in communicable diseases," says Dr. Felton.

Out of a population of 64,540, there were 729 births, forty-one more than in 1933. There were 699 deaths; nineteen stillbirths, and 472 marriages. Twenty-seven infants died at birth.

General expenditures for the health department, including Child Welfare Clinics, were $13,687, with $6,795 for Isolation Hospital, $7,000 for laboratory work, $2,500 for Victorian Order of Nurses, and $11,557 for school medical services.

MEAT INSPECTED
Thomas Lancaster, city sanitary inspector, reported inspection of 601 carcasses of beef, 155 complaints referred to the ratcatcher, health regulations enforced on 533 vessels and 503 complaints received and dealt with.

W. E. Farmer, city milk inspector, tested 544 samples of milk for butterfat, and 1,146 samples for bacteria content. The average butterfat test for the year was 4.2 per cent. All the 142 dairymen retelling raw milk within the city obtained grade "A" certificates. Of the whole-salers, forty-eight held grade "A" certificates and seventy-eight, grade "B." Extremely low bacteria count was found in the raw milk.

DEFENDS ACTION ON BRIDGE PLAN

Norman W. Whittaker, M.P.P., Speaks Before Gyros on Matters Connected With Session

Speaking before the Gyro Club at its luncheon meeting yesterday, Norman W. Whittaker, Liberal member for Saanich in the Legislature, defended the attitude with regard to the Fraser River bridge contract. He said that he thought that the criticism for the most part was due to lack of understanding of the facts. The bridge was built in 1904, when the traffic was almost entirely vehicular, and automobile traffic was not anticipated. He pointed out that the Mainland papers, The Sun and The Province, had only a few years ago demanded that a new bridge was a necessity to cope with the travel that was using it.

"USELESS IN FOUR YEARS"
Mr. Whittaker argued, from engineers' reports, that the bridge now there would be useless in four years. It would take three years to build the new structure.

The passing of the contract to the Fraser River Bridge Company was explained by Mr. Whittaker, who pointed out that this company has already a franchise for the building of a bridge across the Fraser at some point. Already $80,000 had been spent by the company, but in spite of this, it came forward and offered to drop the franchise upon the turning over of the contract to it for the Government-owned bridge.

The tolls on the new bridge were hypothesized absolutely to be applied to the liquidation of the cost of the bridge, so that there would be no chance of undoing this toll aspect of the situation, he declared.

MEMBERS WORK WELL
The speaker said that his experience in the House, with all sides, was that he had found the members alike in integrity and honesty of purpose in handling the affairs of the country.

Mr. Whittaker outlined the work of the session, showing that the members had arduous tasks before them.

When standing erect, the giant kangaroo is nearly as tall as a man, and in full stride makes bounds of from ten to twelve feet.

MONEY POLICY

The International Conference on Economic and Monetary Problems has been in session in London and has issued a series of recommendations. These are interdependent, according to Dr. Murray Butler, president of the Carnegie Endowment. The first states that "seeing the commercial policy of creditor nations is of supreme moment to the financial and economic stability of debtor countries in all parts of the world, the conference recommends that the Governments of the United States and Great Britain, the world's greatest creditor nations, should be requested to consult together, and with such other governments as it might be advisable to approach, for the purpose of agreeing upon measures to enable the debtor nations to meet their obligations in goods and services, and thus of materially assisting in the work of creating stability and restoring confidence."

Another recommendation is that of the desirability of forming low-tariff or free-trade unions on the model of the Ouchy Convention. There is comment on the instability of currencies and the chaotic condition of exchanges which cause international trade difficulties, exchange restrictions, accumulation of gold at a few centres, the discouragement of long-term lending, the narrowing of world markets and the decline in prices. In this connection it is again recommended that the leading governments should consult each other so as to come to a provisional stabilization of exchange on the basis of gold. The provisional basis would allow for readjustment in case of need. The ultimate object is the re-establishment of a stable world gold standard.

It is admitted by the report that the economic and financial problem depends for its solution on the preservation of peace and the restoration of political confidence and security. There is advocacy of strengthening the League of Nations and increasing its influence; steadily building the habit of judicial settlement of international disputes by use of the permanent courts of international justice and arbitration and of commissions of inquiry and conciliation.

The final recommendation of the conference is that the Trustees of the Carnegie Endowment and the officers and directors of the International Chamber of Commerce should consider the practicability of sponsoring jointly the instituting of a competent commission, "to make a comprehensive and exhaustive survey and study of international economic relations in all of their aspects so that a better understanding of these relations by the peoples of the world may be promoted and the cause of economic stability and progress furthered."

SASKATCHEWAN AND BETTER TERMS

Saskatchewan's claim for better terms from the Dominion Government has been investigated by a commission which, in its finding, awards the Province $5,000,000, plus interest at 5 per cent since October 1, 1930, for the lands alienated in the Province since 1905. The Government of Saskatchewan rejects this recommendation in an unqualified way. The Provincial Government's appointee on the commission, a Mr. Justice Bigelow, believes that the Dominion Government should pay $58,342,691. Some of the officials of the Saskatchewan Government are of the opinion that the payment should be nearer $200,000,000. Both of the latter claims are, of course, preposterous.

The point to be made in connection with this claim for better terms is that the Province, had it been in control of the lands in question, would, in every probability, have made no better use of them than did the Dominion Government. The fact is that the Dominion actually lost money in the administration of the homestead lands. Saskatchewan might have done a little better, but not much, on the basis of the progress in the Prairies. Most certainly that Government would hardly have made a profit such as is offered in comparison by the award of the Dysart Commission. That body has applied the principles of reason and common sense to its finding. The award is unacceptable to the Gardiner Government for political reasons. The Winnipeg Tribune says that if that Government accepted the finding "it would have to think up another excuse for asking Ottawa for money—and the supply of excuses is running low."

THREATENING THE PRESS

Premier Pattullo has made it very clear that he will not allow his policies to be influenced by a newspaper, or a coterie of newspapers. He is on safe ground in saying this, because he is the elected representative of the people, the choice for Premier and the responsible head of the Government. It is quite a different thing, however, to hint that he may find it desirable to curb the activities of certain newspapers if they continue criticism that he regards as unfair and unwarranted. That is a challenge to the press as a whole, a threat to its freedom, and that freedom is too long established in British lands to accept of any censorship or dictatorship.

If Mr. Pattullo regards himself or his Government as the target of vicious criticism then it is fairly obvious that he must consider the attacks as libellous. In that case he can obtain full and resounding satisfaction in the courts of the Province, and there, in making his claim, he will have to be much more specific in saying what definite aspects of criticism have aroused his ire. His radio attack on the Vancouver newspapers was conceived in somewhat specious generalities. His claim that he might find it necessary to invoke the Special Powers Act is one that cannot be ignored by any newspaper that is true to one of the most sacred and long-fought traditions of the calling. We are inclined to think that Mr. Pattullo's intimation in this respect was far more of a threat than a promise, and that he is now somewhat chagrined that it should be regarded in a spirit of levity by the newspapers singled out as being the chief offenders.

What the press as a whole of this Province wants is that the Government should give more tangible evidence of a deeper sense of responsibility affecting the issues of the time, and chiefly the financial fortunes of British Columbia. If, instead of attacking newspapers and threatening them with penalties, Mr. Pattullo were to regard their persistent iteration of criticism regarding certain governmental policies as voicing public opinion, he would, in every probability, take the sting out of the criticism to which he objects. The fact that the Vancouver press has aroused the Premier to make such a threat as is contained in his radio speech is indicative of some uncertainty in his conscience relative to the course he is pursuing. His threat has both a serious and ludicrous aspect. It is one that could not be fulfilled without making him a laughing-stock throughout the Dominion. Its serious aspect, for Mr. Pattullo himself, is that the assumption of such dictatorial powers as he intimates would be possible in the matter of the press would speedily lead to the downfall of his party from power.

THE ORIGIN OF O.K.

O.K. is alphabetical slang for "Ori Korrekt," supposed to have had its origin somewhere on this side of the world. The cryptic letters, which have come to supplant "yes" to some extent in the vernacular, are in greater prominence than ever, because they have been accepted as O.K. by the judicial committee of the Privy Council in an appeal case from Rangoon affecting certain delivery orders and invoices. It is claimed that the derivation of O.K. is from Chotaw, in which language appears "oke," "hoke," meaning "yes; it is," but the Chotaw theory did not turn up until 1885, whereas the mystic letters appeared in The Boston Transcript of April 15, 1840. They were used also in an account of a Whig parade in The Boston Atlas of June 18, 1840, when it was said: "The band rode in the stage which had a barrel of Hard Cider on the baggage rack marked with large letters 'O.K.' all correct."

The New York Times says that the alphabetical symbols were once attributed in their first use to General Jackson, but admits that the evidence is unsatisfactory and that the abbreviation may have been brought from the West Indies together with a large supply of the rum of those islands. It says some lazy factor in Jamaica or Santa Cruz, "may have devised this short-cut to save him trouble in his bookkeeping. The brevity for 'all correct' has made its way all over the world and now is in common use everywhere. Its citation in the Privy Council gives it the imprimatur of being incorporated in the language, and it is already found, as well, in the supplement of the Oxford Dictionary, and in most, if not all, American dictionaries.

TO MICKEY MOUSE

Dear Mickey, most endearing little mouse. Whose every quaint, intriguing antic cheers The sad and weary heart and can beguile A world depressed until a happy smile. Spreads o'er its face and melts behind its ears, What pen can e'er describe the charm that lurks In your wild sequence of ecstatic jerks?

When in the darkened cinema I sit, Fed to the teeth with tales of tangled lives Which to the silent, gaping crowd reveal The dangers that can lie in sex-appeal Even for husbands with attractive wives, What joy to see you flash upon the screen Bringing a welcome change of air and scene!

Then happy laughter ripples o'er the throng, With ingenuity that never fails Your author's genius finds us food for mirth That never clogs, and men o'er all the earth Acclaim the Mouse that has a thousand tales And by his frolics has done more for man Than all the stars since movies first began. Touchstone, in The London Morning Post.

The Christian has greatly the advantage of the unbeliever, having everything to gain and nothing to lose.—Byron.

First Get Your Ladder

Howard Thyrrell, during the debate at the Chamber of Commerce between the Junior Chamber and Federated Council of Youth, remarked that the present generation was not willing to start at the bottom of the ladder and work up, but wanted to begin where credit was left off. Alan Whitfield answered that he had been in the industrial world ten years but had not even seen the ladder.—G.B.

Secret of Long Life

Among the white race the younger generation in particular, the prevalent notion is that lots of hard work results in a short life. So it is shunned accordingly. During a visit to Chief David Paul, 108-year-old Indian of West Saanich Reserve, the old-timer was asked what he attributed his long life to. He summed it up in three words—"I like work."—G.B.

It Was Tried Before

It is too bad that Premier Pattullo don't study British Columbia history closer. If he did, then he would have known that Governor James Douglas tried to control the press in 1859 and failed, and with all due and proper respect to the Premier, Douglas was a better statesman than Duff.—B.A.M.

Give the Composer a Hand

Walter O'Keefe, popular radio comedian in New York, takes credit for popularizing the famous "Man on the Flying Trapeze," but it was an Englishman, George Leybourne, who composed the tune in England for one of his shows in 1865.—W.J.H.

Please the Buyer

"Don't throw advertising into parked automobiles. It makes enemies for you instead of customers," says an item in a publicity campaign for cleaner streets. Use the newspapers, save money, make friends and lasting customers—make everybody happy.—R.A.G.

Worth the Money

After all, we hundreds of thousands who did not win prizes in the Irish sweepstake did have a lot of fun thinking about what we could have done had money come our way.—N.A.C.M.

Victoria Is Interested

When the Canadian golf team invades England this summer under the captaincy of that veteran campaigner, Ross "Sandy" Somerville, Victorians will follow with great interest its exploits on Old Country links, due to the fact that R. L. "Dick" Moore, present British Columbia amateur champion, a former local boy, is on the personnel. Moore learned his golf in this city and incidentally won his first Provincial crown at Oak Bay when only nineteen. So if Mr. Moore gains any glory across the Atlantic, the Capital City can claim some of it, although he is now residing in Vancouver.—J.D.

He Has Courage

British Columbia's youthful Attorney-General is a man of rare courage, and with age he may develop discretion. He has imposed an angling tax on every female over the age of eighteen who wishes to go fishing. Had he sought the mature judgment of some of his older colleagues he would have learned: (a) That no young woman is more than eighteen until she reaches thirty, and then she's twenty-six; (b) that all women are born anglers, and (c) the amount of revenue which he will receive won't compensate for the trouble of collecting it.—B.A.M.

Four-Footed Vandals

There are notices posted up on the trail on Mount Douglas warning against the picking of wild flowers and threatening dire penalties for disregard of such warning. But—goats cannot read, and they may not be able to say "no" or may not act with ill will, are gnawing and nibbling at the bark of hundreds of young trees on the mountain's slopes. Particularly funny they seem to be of young yew trees. The yew is not the commonest of trees on Vancouver Island. It is a beautiful tree and the eyes of some of us and there is quite a stand of them on the lower slopes of Mount Douglas, ranging in size from saplings to at least one of great girth. Can nothing be done to stop their being killed by illiterate and hungry goats before it is too late?—R.L.P.

As Expert to Expert

When Mr. Hal Sims responded to a one-club bid by his wife, by calling a grand slam in clubs, he was asked by Mr. Ely Culbertson, "if," by the way, "it was contract bridge they were playing?"

Oh, Ely, please forgive me if I find it. So hard at bridge to show you I am right; One club, my darling wife at first designed it, And I bid the grand slam at one bite.

No, this is not pinochle we are playing, My purpose is to win outbidding you, But then it is so hard to hear you saying That contract, as I play it, is askew.

Forgive my little wanderings from the narrow, Two hedged-in paths that you define as true, Just take it that my object is to harrow The souls of cock-sure players such as you.—B.H.B.-W.

A DENIAL

Sir,—In reply to an article appearing on the Shipping Page in regard to whaling crews asking for an increase in wages, would you be kind enough to print the following? That C. P. O'Donovan, the writer of the article, has no authority to confer with the whaling company as to wages or conditions and that he has no connection whatever with the committee of whalers carrying on negotiations with the management, and any article published by him has no sanction of the whaling company employees; also, that we would appreciate Mr. O'Donovan becoming acquainted with the facts before rushing into print.

THE GRAND NATIONAL

Sir,—I wish to endorse the remarks of your correspondent, Mr. Maurice, in his letter in today's Colonist, protesting the word "cruel" as applied to the Grand National. That it is a severe test of perseverance, pluck and stamina in both rider and horse must be admitted, but to apply the word "cruel" to it is decidedly unfair.

As to Mr. Maurice's remarks about unfit horses, I think he is mistaken, as the conditions under which horses are allowed to enter and start preclude this, and no owner or trainer or rider of a horse would spend the time and money required unless he thought he had a chance to win. I remember Mr. Tom Couthwaite, one of the finest trainers of horses in the Old Country, told us in an interesting interview, after he had at last, after many attempts, won the race. He had built upon his farm and training grounds an exact copy of all the ditches and fences that have to be jumped in the race. Then he always used kindness in dealing with his horses, never cruelty.

Of the immense benefit to the horse breeding industry, or the great amount of money invested, space will not permit me to enlarge, but I can only say in conclusion that it is the winning of this race and such tests as the cricket test matches and the Oxford and Cambridge boat race, that have helped to place our British Empire where it is today, and long may they continue. Today they are more than ever necessary in face of conditions in Europe.

MR. JOHN BUCHAN

Sir,—A press dispatch from Toronto, appearing in The Colonist of Friday, states that George J. Smith, president of the Native Sons of Canada, has wired a protest to Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister, against the appointment of Mr. John Buchan as Governor-General of Canada, on the ground that the famous writer and historian is not a Canadian.

While it is to be presumed that Mr. Smith, in his official capacity, is speaking for the organization over which he presides, yet one is reluctant to believe that it reflects the views of the membership at large. It betrays a spirit which can only be described as narrow and childish. So far as I am aware, the appointment has been hailed with satisfaction throughout the Dominion, and it is not to be expected that the action of the Native Sons' president will meet with much support. It would be scarcely deserving of passing comment, were it not that it betrays a dog-in-the-manger conception of nationhood which is unworthy as it is ridiculous, and if allowed to pass unchallenged, might create in the minds of some an erroneous impression.

Those holding the view, as expressed in Mr. Smith's protest appear to overlook the fact that Canada, although self-governing, is still a member of the group of nations composing the British Commonwealth, each of which regards the throne as the embodiment of the greater whole.

One has yet to learn that the Native Sons of the British Isles, if there is such a body (I trust not), protested against the appointment of a Canadian, to wit, Mr. Bonar Law, as Prime Minister of Great Britain.

Mr. Smith's action is futile and foolish. JAMES F. WILSON,

YOUTH AND WORK

Sir,—Yesterday's Colonist has two letters that should throw a ray of hope on the path of those who tend to despondency. Dean Quinlan, with all that characteristic earnestness he can so well command, cries out: "Can nothing even yet be done?" It is no way? Mr. L. J. Eckman says: "Yes, there is a way. The sacrifice of God is a broken and contrite heart. Our only attitude must be that of the repentant prodigal. Let us turn to the Lord our God and He will abundantly pardon us."

May I translate this into a practical prayer for the people? Some of us have not quite forgotten Carlyle's interpretation of the old monastic legend "Laborare est orare." We know by experience the truth that work and worship are the same thing—in fact, and not by mere alliteration. We know in the same way that the voice that says, "In the sweat of thy brow shalt thou earn thy bread" will also, if we all with our hearts, give us guidance and show us the way to work. We have tried it and have not found the promise vain.

Let us ask, then, with all earnestness certainly, but above all with all that love and faith that He has breathed into us, that He will open our eyes, willfully blind to the opportunities for work so generously strewn about us here in Canada, and give us the will to lay hold on His good gifts so freely given; that we close our mouths, too ready to cry out before we are kicked. Then let us call off our growling at those things of which we complain so often and so bitterly, though due to nothing save what is entirely our own fault, and therefore no justification for a grouse. F. W. L. MOORE,

 3249 Quadra Street, Victoria, B.C.,

OTHER POINT CAMP

Sir,—May I encroach on your valuable space in the interests of those young men who are on relief in Other Point Camp? The lack of entertainment in this camp has been our citizens. The Service Clubs' Council, which, on investigation, feels that this lack can be very easily supplied through the generosity of our citizens. The Service Club's Council having placed this matter in my hands, I wish to appeal for programmes of a class that will entertain these young men. Later on, softball teams and other sports will be desirable. Address letters to C. H. French, 182 George Road West, Victoria, or telephone E 8902.

In the meantime, service clubs of the city will carry on once each week, but outside programmes will be appreciated. C. H. FRENCH,
 182 George Road West, Victoria, B.C.,

IN THE VINEYARD

Sir,—On page four of The Daily Colonist for Sunday, March 17, there is a very fine leading article on "The Light of the World." In the article you state "Physicists have come to the conclusion that Light is the masterkey in the explanation of the cosmos of mystery of which earth is a part." Later you state "There is a One and Indivisible Explanation being sought to uncover the meaning of a Universe of Light."

I would interpret that to mean that the physicist, whether he acknowledges it or not, is working in God's Vineyard. If so what is the meaning of this statement which appears on the same page? After a libe at Mr. Woodworth's cosmogony, R.B.D. says "We suppose it is one of the signs of the times that many pulpiteres appear to have discovered that there is more profit in tilling the political field than tilling in the Lord's Vineyard."

Would R.B.D. kindly enlighten some of his readers what his definition of "The Lord's Vineyard" is? I should imagine writing a column six days a week, including Sunday, for The Daily Colonist, was doing very important work in "The Lord's Vineyard."

Again, to have a part in putting just laws upon the statute books of Canada is a very important part of the work to be done in God's Vineyard, not less important than the work of the physicists who have discovered the law that "Light is the masterkey in the explanation of the cosmos of which this earth is a part." We have to live on this earth and this earth is "The Lord's Vineyard" for politicians, persons, teachers, newspaper writers, businessmen, stock brokers and stock sellers, in short, for "all sorts and conditions of men."

The other evening in Victoria Mr. Ira Dilworth deplored the absence of reality in modern art, literature and poetry, contrasting the reality found in the Book of Job and in many of the sixteenth century poets and writers with our modern desert. Why such a desert today, "Hot burning sands and no water?" Is it not because men fail to realize today, whether their work is that of a scavenger or a premier, it is all "The Lord's Vineyard?" I hope my scavenger friends will forgive me for putting a premier at the top of the list and a scavenger at the bottom. The scavenger's work is often more important than the premier's. At least if the scavenger goes on strike, plague and pestilence can quickly follow, and I suppose R.B.D. would agree that any man that does his bit in preventing plague and pestilence is working in "The Lord's Vineyard."

We shall get out of the modern desert when we all realize there are no "water-tight compartments" in God's World, be the task great or small, pulpit or politician, both must one day give an account for "deeds done in the body" to the "Giver of All Good Life."

I look upon R.B.D. as a teacher. Cheap lilies at parsons or pulpiteres on Sunday or Tuesday will not get us out of the desert. It does a lot of harm especially to our young people, who fail to realize today that all talents for writing, speaking, tolling or tilling are lent to us, so that we may have a humble part with the physicist in that "One and Indivisible Explanation"—making it possible for His Will to be done on earth as it is in Heaven.

HOPEFUL FOR ACTION FROM CONFERENCE

Plight of Municipalities Is Brought Home to Dominion Government

MAYOR LEEMING IS BACK FROM PARLEY

Mayor David Leeming has returned from the Dominion mayors' conference at Montreal with a firm opinion that the gathering will prove fruitful. He also believes that his tour of Montana with George I. Warren will result in direction of many tourists to Vancouver Island this season.

"Municipal problems, as brought to light at the conference, are similar in many parts of Canada. Municipalities are not able to carry on the straining burden of relief, which all delegates felt was a Dominion obligation," Mayor Leeming asserted. He pointed out the resolution of unemployment relief made out a clear case that it was a national emergency and, therefore, a national responsibility.

"If Canadian cities are to survive, relief must be lifted from their shoulders," said the Mayor. "There is no doubt about it, the Government heeded the gravity of the situation and was impressed with the necessity of relieving the crushing financial strain upon municipalities."

NO POLITICS THERE

Mayor Leeming was appointed chairman of a sub-committee to draw up the resolution on relief. Before it was completed, he secured statements from the main body of the convention on general actual conditions, which were embodied in the resolution.

No consideration was given to politics at the conference. All were there to work out the economic salvation of the nation and a marked solidarity of opinion was noticed both East and West, the Mayor stated.

TOUR OF MONTANA

Speaking of his tour of Montana, Mayor Leeming mentioned that completion of new roads through that state would result in many tourists being able to drive to the Pacific Coast instead of being diverted south. Contacts were made with a number of tourist bureaus and automobile camps for distribution of Victoria and Island literature.

Co-operative advertising of Pacific Northwest attractions is planned by British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho, the Mayor declared.

Mayor Leeming left Butte, Mont., on the morning of March 23, and visited Chicago, Boston and New York during the course of his travels. He left Montreal last Friday afternoon and arrived in Seattle by air Saturday evening, returning to Victoria on Sunday.

Mrs. Josephine Morrison, Well-Known Victorian, Dies in Vancouver

MRS. J. G. MORRISON

As the result of a stroke, suffered while she was driving on Sunday evening from New Westminster to her home in Vancouver, Mrs. Josephine Morrison, widow of the late Robert G. Morrison, passed away in Vancouver yesterday morning.

A native of Victoria, who spent her life here until the family removed to Vancouver about ten years ago, Mrs. Morrison had a host of friends in this city, and was particularly well known in musical circles through her many appearances on the concert platform and in church choirs. For a long time she was soloist with the First Presbyterian Church Choir, and on several occasions sang for the Arion Club and other musical organizations. Since going to the Mainland she had become very well known in a similar capacity, and friends here as well as in Vancouver were, on numerous occasions, privileged to hear her in broadcast programmes over CJOH.

Mrs. Walter E. Adams, of Beach Drive, Oak Bay, is a sister, and other immediate surviving relatives are two sons, Robert and Graham Morrison, and two daughters, Jean and Margaret. A brother, Heber Beck, lives in Seattle.

Constitution to Be Given Revision

ATHENS, April 1 (CP-Havas).—Abolition of the Senate and dissolution of the Cabinet was approved at a meeting today of the Tsaldaris Cabinet, which ordered that decrees to this effect be published immediately.

The Cabinet also decided to issue a proclamation calling for elections in two months to a national assembly which will vote on constitutional revisions.

Contemporary Poets Are Best Historians of Man

Alan Crawley, Speaking on "Present-Day English Verse," Gives a Fascinating Exposition of the Present-Day Verse

An eloquent exponent of the poetry of simple things was heard by the Overseas Club yesterday afternoon, when Alan Crawley, recently of Winnipeg, now resident here, spoke at the regular monthly meeting on the subject of "Present-Day English Verse."

While the major part of the programme consisted of an abbreviated and very select anthology of contemporary poetry, recited from memory, Mr. Crawley prefaced and interspersed the poems with a few comments of his own, relating to the past played by verse in reflecting the thought, customs and characteristics of any particular period.

The story of a people was not best found in the history of their wars, he said, but in the pages of contemporary writers. For instance, one could learn more about the people of mediaeval England from Chaucer's "Canterbury Pilgrims" than from any history. In the same way, one could see through the eyes of Shakespeare, Wordsworth and Tennyson, a picture of Nature and the people of their particular times. The lecturer's reference to J. M. Synge, the Irish dramatist and poet, through whom the reader could listen to the Irish peasant as he talked about love, fighting and religion, had an interesting after-connection, the president, Dr. Arthur G. Price, recalling that he had known him in Ireland.

CONTEMPORARY POETS

Best known of the contemporary nature poets was W. H. Davies, whose "Leisure" and "Winter" were recited, the former opening with the lines:

"What is this life so full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare."

with a picture of the world of lovely nature, with its flowering trees and browsing cattle, that is passed by unnoticed by the hurrying throng.

Muriel Stewart's "In a Seed Shop" was next recited, with its picture of the potential loveliness that reposed in each tiny dry pod. Some odd verses from Houseman's "Shropshire Lad" poems were next quoted, then Walter de la Mare's "Silver," which has the peculiar beauty of alliterativeness. "Tugs," a poet's conception of "Three Nubian Queens" passing down the Thames, was followed by Eleanor Farjeon's "Oranges and Lemons," Harold Munro's "Solitude" and the very amusing "Milk for the Cat," and Martin Armstrong's unusual and profoundly humorous "When Mrs. Reece Laughs."

HOMESICKNESS

Hamilton's "In Exile" with its touch of homesickness, and Hilton Young's "On Christmas Day," written during the war, when the author was in mid-Atlantic, were a well-assorted pair, and the anthology closed with the quotation of Rupert Brooke's "Great Lover," in which the little, simple everyday concrete things are elevated and made worthy of observation and inclusion in the poet's verse.

Dr. Price thanked the speaker most cordially for his contribution. The routine business included announcement by Mrs. A. E. Hodgins that Mrs. David Doig, of Victoria, would represent the local Overseas Club at the honorary corresponding secretary's annual conference to be held in London on July 11. It was also reported that three new members had joined the local branch during the past month. Members were reminded that life membership fees had been reduced from seven to five guineas for a limited time.

DR. WERNER'S POWDER FOR HOLDING TIGHT FALSE TEETH

Hotel. This ball, which will be the first large affair of the post-Lenten season, is being put on in an endeavor to raise funds for the May 24 celebration.

Letters have been sent to Seattle by the committee in an effort to get Victor Meyers, Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Washington and better-known as a musician and dance orchestra leader, to be present at the dance to act as guest conductor for the evening. In addition to the two large orchestras totalling thirty-two pieces, the eighteen candidates for Island regatta honors will be present at the ball and will be introduced by His Worship Mayor David Leeming, general chairman of the celebration committee.

DONATE SERVICES

Through the efforts of Stanley G. Peele, president of the Musicians' Union, the orchestras will donate their services for the evening as their contribution to the funds for the celebration. J. K. Hodges, manager of the Empress Hotel, has offered as his donation the use of the ballroom for the evening.

Tickets went on sale yesterday and already a large number have been disposed of. As there is limited accommodation, intending patrons are urged to purchase their tickets early. Tickets can be obtained from the May Queen Contest headquarters at 1216 Government

YOUR HOME

Does it face the future in security?

Would the mortgage be provided for—should you pass on unexpectedly?

You and your family are accustomed to say "our home." You are proud to think of the home as your own. But if anything should happen to you, would your family be able to meet those semi-annual payments on the mortgage? A home is a fine thing, but a mortgage is a poor legacy for a widow!

---Let an IMPERIAL LIFE POLICY cover the amount of your mortgage

The wise and thoughtful man will cover his mortgage dollar for dollar with an Imperial Mortgage Protection Policy. Then, in case he should die, there will be cash immediately available to discharge the mortgage and leave the house clear of debt for his family.

The yearly deposits are small—just like adding about two or three per cent. to your mortgage interest. If you live, this money is not spent, but is saved and thereby builds up a cash fund for your own later years to help you maintain your home and those who may still be dependent on you.

MAKES LEGAL STATEMENTWoman Tells Under Oath How Fruit-A-tives Rid Her of Sick-Headaches And Stomach Trouble

Mrs. Ethel Duff, 135 Wellington St. E., Chatham, Ontario, tells in a sworn statement how she got relief from stomach trouble and sick-headaches. Mrs. Duff told of her experience under oath before a notary as everyone can be sure of its truth. She says, "I was chronically bothered with stomach trouble which brought on sick headaches six days out of seven. Nothing I did or took to relieve them did any good. Then I read about Fruit-A-tives and started taking them. In less than a month my stomach trouble had gone and I had no more headaches. I gave Fruit-A-tives to my husband who also had stomach trouble. They helped him an awful lot."

That Fruit-A-tives have helped bring new health to thousands of men and women is evidenced by the fact that today, it is the largest selling remedy of its kind in Canada. If you are bothered with constipation, indigestion or kindred ills start Fruit-A-tives right now.
Copy of Mrs. Duff's sworn statement will be sent on request. Write Fruitatives Limited, Ottawa, Canada.

Despite the fact that their present house was originally numbered thirteen, Mr. and Mrs. G. Penketh, 2517 Blanshard Street, were recently visited by Dame Fortune when Mrs. Penketh was notified that she was the winner of the Oldest Gas Range contest, conducted by the B.C. Electric Railway Company, and was asked when it would be convenient for the gas fitters to come and disconnect her old range and install the new range in its place.

This work has now been completed and Mrs. Penketh is the proud possessor of the very latest thing in gas ranges.

CAME HERE IN 1886

Mr. and Mrs. Penketh have been residents of Victoria for nearly fifty years, coming directly to Victoria from Manchester, England, in 1886. Mrs. Penketh well remembers the day the first street cars ran in Victoria, and many other facts in connection with the growth of the city that have long since passed into history.

In the early days, that portion of Blanshard Street on which the Penketh home is now situated was known as Second Street. "And our house was number 13," said Mrs. Penketh, "but I never found it brought me any bad luck."

Mr. and Mrs. Penketh have a son and two daughters living in Victoria, and a son and a daughter in Portland, Ore.

IS DELIGHTED

Mrs. Penketh, naturally, is delighted with her success. "I didn't think I had much chance, but I thought I might just as well try."

It is interesting to note that her old gas range entered by Mrs. Penketh in this contest was manufactured by the Albion Stove Company, Limited, of Victoria, in 1906. Mrs. Penketh purchased it the same year, had it installed in her home, and it has been in daily use ever since. Although much worn and completely antiquated, it was still serviceable when disconnected a few days ago.

This "oldest" gas range is now on display at the B.C. Electric store on Douglas Street.

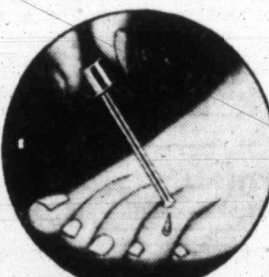

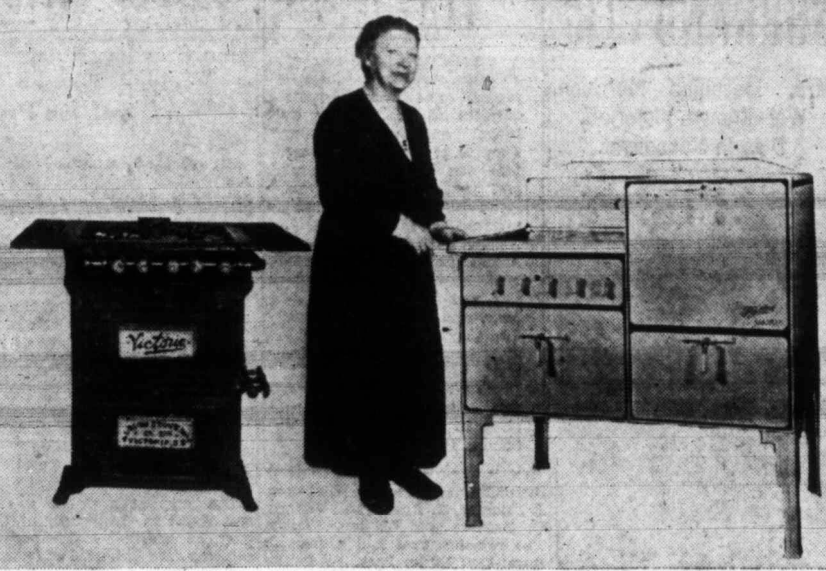

Join Fight to Save Cancer Victims

Medical science is making a valiant fight against the menace of cancer. Research work is urgently needed in this battle against one of the greatest scourges of mankind. Vancouver Island residents, in association with other Canadian citizens, are offered an opportunity to participate in this warfare against disease by subscribing to the fund which is being raised to finance intensive research work in the Dominion.

The suggestion that such a humane effort be made comes from His Majesty the King, who intimated that such would be regarded by him and the Queen as a most fitting method of commemorating the silver jubilee of his reign.

Only a few days remain during which the fund, now being raised, will be open. British Columbia's contribution will be in the form of native gold, which will be converted into currency and donated to the Canadian research fund. In common with other newspapers, The Colonist is receiving subscriptions. In acknowledging the gift of M. Fry on Saturday, a typographical error made it appear as $200, when it should have been $200. This sum is again acknowledged, with additional contributions received yesterday:

evidence of procuring, with which the jury was concerned, was up to July 8, and evidence subsequent to that date was only relevant as corroborating the truth of the charge. There was not one little of evidence that the girls were prostitutes before July 8, he said. As against Bancroft and Mrs. Joyce there was the sworn evidence of the two girls, that they induced them to enter a life of degradation, he explained. There was no direct evidence that Celona used any persuasion, he said. The Crown's case was based on Section 69 of the Criminal Code, that Celona aided and abetted the commission of the crime.

Summarizing the Crown's case against Celona, His Lordship said that Celona was part owner of the Maple Hotel. He occupied fourth-floor rooms in the hotel. The fourth floor was used as a brothel for Orientals. Celona was associated with Bancroft. Celona was present at a party where "these two domestics" became drunk. (The girls whom the three were accused of procuring testified during the trial they had gone to a Point Grey road house, occupied by Bancroft and the Joyce woman, where they were to work as domestics). Bancroft phoned and Celona was the only man who came to the Point Grey road house after the call, Mr. Justice McDonald continued. There was a conversation between Bancroft and Celona when the girls came downstairs, and something was said about Chinamen.

"You may think that draws Celona pretty closely into the picture," His Lordship commented.

Continuing, he said there was evidence of a trip to a brothel on Main Street; of conversation with Celona in the Maple Hotel; and of a conversation with Celona when both girls were sick with a "horrible disease," and Celona said they could stay on as long as he got his share of the money.

"Gentlemen of the jury, it is for you to say whether you believe a word that woman says," he said of Mrs. Joyce's testimony.

In concluding, His Lordship asked: "Did those two girls concoct that story out of whole cloth? Have they brains enough?"

Mr. Donohy traced the Crown's evidence from the time the girls went to the Point Grey road house until they were taken to the Windsor and Maple Hotels where they met Chinamen.

ALMOST PREPOSTEROUS

"Only the youngest and prettiest girls were submitted to these Chinamen," the prosecutor said. "It is almost preposterous to think that this would take place in a Christian community—prostituting themselves with these Orientals."

Mr. Henderson contended that the evidence showed Celona had had the least to do with the case. A. E. Branca, counsel for the Joyce woman, attacked the credibility of the two girl witnesses. Bancroft, who defended himself, said that "if I had affairs with them (the two girls) it was just affairs." Celona, he said, should not be found guilty. "There were hundreds of girls in Vancouver who could have taken their places," he added, referring to the two girls again. "He didn't have to take them."

Navy Blue Is Leader in Season's Footwear

With the presentation of the Spring fashions comes a new note in smart footwear. Blue will be the predominant shade this season. Navy blue kid has captured the attention of stylists in Paris, London and on this side of the Atlantic. A few green suede shoes are shown, but their reception has not been so overwhelming as that of blues. Of course hats and gloves follow suit and where natural tones are used, navy accessories are dictated.

The sandal has again taken the centre of the stage and many new variations of this style are now on display.

It is in applied decoration that much of the newness of surface interest comes into Spring shoes. By surface interest is meant the perforations, punch work and worked patterns where two pieces of leather are woven to leave open spaces.

Stitching comes in every guise and form with the new Russian cording, appliques and underlays. The new feature of all these is that they must be arranged with a meaning, with a designed motif which accents a focal point of interest in the shoe.

Great ingenuity is found in the design of new Spring models.

St. Margaret's Girls in Spectacular Programme

About Eighty Pupils Take Part in Gymnastic and Dancing Display That Is Splendidly Carried Out—Many Parents Present

Not only very fine physical development, but good teamwork, esprit de corps, quick thinking, and alert response to the word of command, were apparent in the gymnastic and dancing display given by the girls of St. Margaret's School on Saturday night.

The display took place in the gymnasium, the galleries of which were crowded with spectators, who obviously appreciated the fine points in the demonstration. At the close of the entertainment the principal, Mrs. Duncan, said a few words of appreciation to the girls, the parents, and, on behalf of the pupils, to Miss Barbara Grant, sports mistress, to whose directive genius the success of the affair was so largely due. She was presented with a bouquet.

EIGHTY GIRLS

About eighty girls, representing practically the entire school, took part in the varied programme, which was made up of Swedish gymnastics, Swedish folk dances, Danish gymnastics, vaulting, rope climbing, and various group dances—Greek, English country, and imaginative. Everything showed admirable preparation, and each number was carried out with happy spirit as well as nicety of technique. Particularly noticeable was the good muscular co-ordination of the individual performers, making for balance and poise. This was especially demonstrated in one of the features of the Swedish gymnastic display given by Forms V and VI at the end of the programme, when the girls had to walk slowly along a narrow rail, throwing the weight on one foot at a time only. Not one lost her balance or disorganized the line, four groups advancing at a time.

The vaulting by Forms V and VI was one of the most spectacular items. Great smartness and all-round muscular development were shown in this. Form IV gave a much-applauded display of Danish gymnastics, to the accompaniment of music, played by Naneen Stephens. The springboard work was an outstanding feature of this. As usual the very small children's numbers were popular and amusing. A group of little six and seven-year-olds opened the programme when Forms I and II gave a gymnastic display that included standing on the head and various other movements. Even at this age the children had attained quite a degree of muscular development, and their command and cheerful response to the command was much admired.

The Pjalnaspolska, a Swedish folk dance given by Form VI, was a most lively number, and other dances were the imaginative dances, "Jack Frost," "Wind," "Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairies," and "Driving Horses," all given by Form III; the English country dances, "Black Nag," and "Maze on a Cree," given by Form V, and "Nancy's Fancy," "If All the World Were Paper," and "Newcastle," given by different groups of girls from Forms III and IV; "The Phoenix" and "Chelsea Reach," demonstrated by Forms V and VI. Forms IV, V and VI demonstrated Greek dances, with musical accompaniment: "The Mill," three Brahms' waltzes, on called "Schubert Running Trio," another entitled "Schubert Circle," and the Mendelssohn "Dance of Three," all of which were distinguished by grace and good rhythm.

The arm and body movements of the Swedish drill were carried out with beautiful uniformity of action by large groups of girls from Forms III, V and VI, and the programme concluded with pyramids and a very spectacular drill display in which the entire school took part.

HOLLYWOOD CLUB

The next dance to be held by Hollywood Club will take place in the Margaret Jenkins School auditorium on Friday night. It will be in the form of a masquerade, prizes being offered for the first and second best costumes and also a prize will be awarded for the best comic costume worn. A popular four-piece orchestra will be in attendance. This is to be the last dance held under the invitation system of admission formerly employed at these dances.

M. Brown, Heddie, Dorman, Fraser, Dinmore, Elliott, O. M. Brown, Humphries, Calvert, Dillabough, Luney, Cox, Grimson and Simpson. WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

GANGES

The monthly meeting of the Ganges Women's Institute took place Friday afternoon in the Mahon Hall, Ganges, the president, Mrs. N. W. Wilson, in the chair. The date for the annual flower show, to be held in the Mahon Hall, was fixed for Thursday, April 25. The exhibit will be placed down the centre of the building. An additional competition in the prize list this year will be the decorated tea tables. At each, a member will be hostess and responsible for the decorations, table appointments, etc. Judging for the tea tables and all other exhibits will be by popular vote.

It was decided to comply with the request of the Saltspring Island Sheep Breeders' Association, that the institute would again take in hand the catering for lunch and tea at its annual exhibition in June. Mrs. McGleish, of Victoria, gave an interesting talk on the subject of Oriental rug making. She showed the members some specimens of rugs, beautiful examples of her own work and explained the art of making them. The members were full of enthusiasm and hoped to be able to take up the work later. After the promise of a return visit, on the invitation of the president, Mrs. McGleish was accorded a hearty vote of thanks by Mrs. Wilson and the members.

The tea hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. A. B. Elliott and Mrs. Rosengren, assisted by other members. The mid-monthly meeting will take place in the committee room of the Mahon Hall on Friday, April 12.

SOUTH SALTSRING

The South Saltspring Women's Institute held its monthly meeting recently at the Institute Hall, Fulford Harbor. The president, Mrs. R. Maxwell, was in the chair. The financial report of the recent five hundred drive showed a balance in hand of $21.24. This sum, it was arranged, would be used to remodel the Institute Ward in the Gulf Islands Hospital and tenders were called for kalsomining and painting same. The sum of $5 was sent to the open subscription list of the sheep breeders for sufferers in the Fraser River floods. The tea hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. L. D. Drummond and Miss Gladys Shaw.

SOOKE

The regular meeting of the Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute will be held at Sooke Harbor House at 8 o'clock this evening. Professor E. M. Straight, of the Experimental Station, will deliver an address at the close of the meeting, on gardening.

The March activities were numerous, including a luncheon at the Hudson's Bay Company, a bridge party at which Mrs. J. Donald and Mrs. K. Schmelz were the prize-winners, and Mrs. E. S. Blair the tombola winner. April activities will include a social afternoon at headquarters on Friday, April 5, with an interesting programme in charge of Mrs. D. S. Blair, the detail to include a demonstration in manicuring by Miss Dorothy Blair; a floral tea on April 11, when the art of making French silk flowers will be demonstrated by Mrs. F. Austin; and participation in the Spring flower show at the Willows on April 26 and 27 to the extent of serving the customary luncheon and afternoon tea. The Tuesday craft classes continue to interest a large number of members. The next business meeting will be held on Friday, April 12.

"THE CHILD"

By REGINALD H. WOODS, M.D., C.M., L.M.C.

PARENTAL IGNORANCE

The greatest cause today of depressed values; defective law and order; lack of harmony in the home; and of our inability to care for and train our children to become happy, fearless, effective citizens, is parental ignorance. Parental ignorance is criminal in the truest sense of the word. Yet society imposes a jail sentence on a man who steals bread because his family is starving, and gives little more than a passing thought (if

(that) to the parent whose ignorance of child care and training not only prevents the child from living a happy, fair and full life (this birth-right), but ruins his character and warps his personality. When the child of this parent turns out to be a failure—a selfish, non-effective adult—of whom (rated on what he had accomplished for others) it might truly be said, it were better that he had not been born; and should he join the ranks of the parasitical underworld, these ignorant parents wonder, yes, actually wonder, why their John did not turn out like the other lad, whose parents had disturbed their own ease and tranquility sufficiently to obtain advice on the care and training of their children from those who know.

Task for Task—on bath tubs . . . on floors . . . on stoves and paint and greasy knives—Classic Cleanser out-performs all other leading cleansers!

That is the finding of several hundred local women who volunteered for the amazing "Hidden Name" test here recently.

They tried out three cans of cleanser, identified only by numbers. Used them all equally for a week. Then filled out a questionnaire naming their first, second, and third choice, with reasons for their preference.

Briefly, the majority selected Classic Cleanser because they found it CLEANS EASIER . . . WORKS FASTER . . . WON'T SCRATCH. Incidentally, the same test in Montreal—Toronto—in dozens of other places brought exactly the same verdict!

Now you KNOW what Classic Cleanser will do! Why not try it today in your home. Order a can from your grocer . . . its economy will delight you, too!

Premier Pattullo on Main-land for Few Days—Rou-tine Orders Passed

With Premier Pattullo in Van-couver, where he went on Sunday evening with the intention of re-turning Wednesday, members of the Government in the city yester-day tacitly avoided reference to his radio address and its consequences. Routine affairs of the Government were going forward without ex-citement.

Hon. A. W. Gray was on the Mainland with Henry Cathcart, deputy Minister of Lands, to con-sult Vancouver authorities over foreshore rights and squatters on the Kitsilano reserve. Hon. K. C. MacDonald returned from the an-nual bull sale at Kamloops, and meetings with livestock and fruit men in the Interior. Hon. F. M. MacPherson took time out to go to a wedding.

APPOINTMENTS

Civil appointments were ratified. J. P. Scarlett, of Barkerville, adds the duties of coroner to mining responsibilities there. Dr. H. C. Winch, of Hazelton, former mem-ber for Skeena, is made a coroner for the area. R. E. Crerar, of Nel-son, becomes a justice of the peace. Alex Beattie, of Golden, is made a stipendiary magistrate and judge in the small debts court.

G. A. Tisdall, of Westholme, ex-changes duties as stipendiary mag-istrate in Cowichan-Newcastle for the same responsibilities in Nanaimo and Victoria counties. F. T. Sals-bury, of Deep Bay, becomes a jus-tice of the peace. A small salary increase is allotted to W. G. Flem-ing, a clerk in the works office at Revelstoke.

LOG EXPORT PERMITS

The Cabinet has renewed the au-thority of the Minister of Lands to grant permits for log exports, but this will be exercised as heretofore on recommendation of a committee composed of the chief forester, the district forester at Vancouver, and three representatives each from log-ging and milling industries.

The Province has signed an agree-ment with Port Alberni, whereby the Provincial Police will patrol the area mandatorily taken over last year for $4,000 per annum. Fall assizes at Quesnell are set for October 14. Assizes at Prince George on October 10 are cancelled, as are assizes at Nanaimo, formerly set for April 9. A quantity of illicit beer was ordered destroyed.

Restoration of special timber li-cense is to be made for Deep-water Timber Company, Ltd., on payment of fees and charges total-ing $640.

EASTER HOLIDAYS

Following annual custom the Gov-ernment has proclaimed Saturday, April 20, a holiday for the Civil Service, which will give an unbroken holiday at Easter week to provin-cial employees.

Relief figures for February were reported at 21,296 heads of families; and 24,653 single men, including 8,183 in National defence camps. The gross total, including 59,264 de-pendents, was placed at 104,713 in-dividuals, or less by 9,000 than in the corresponding month last year. Provincial officials are watching the issue in National defence camps, where a second effort by agitators to induce a walk-out by relief re-cipients was reported timed for Thursday of this week. National defence camps are under the con-trol of the Dominion.

A. B. Smith, chairman of the Ad-visory Board of Farmers' Institutes, called on the Minister of Agricul-ture during the day, to complain that the legislative committee on agriculture had treated thirty-seven resolutions from that group with somewhat distant regard. The com-mittee had reported the existence of the resolution to the House, but not their contents, he transpired.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

DOES YOUR SHAPE AFFECT YOUR HEALTH?

A man who had been away from his home village for fourteen years visited the old Sunday school and was able to tell the names of all the new scholars who were not there fourteen years previously because he could see the resemblance to one or the other of their parents.

And so, while no two persons are exactly alike in face or body, never-theless, certain characteristics of face and body are handed down to chil-dren.

In speaking of the different types of individuals, Dr. Llewellyn P. Bar-ker, Johns Hopkins University, speaks of four different groups.

1. Those of the pyknic (cycloid) type (called the bulldog type by some of us) are short, round and stubby. In disposition they are "hall fellow well met"—boosters, backslappers. They are predisposed to mental depression states, dia-betes, rheumatism-arthritis, appo-plexy and high blood pressure.

2. Those of the asthenic type (the greyhound type) are tall, more in-terested, looking inwards with their thoughts, and are predisposed to dementia precox—a persistent dream

3. The athletic type falls between these first two, and there is the ten-dency to dementia precox—a persistent dream

4. The diastolic type are the giants and dwarfs when the ductless glands are likely at fault.

In a magazine article I wrote some years ago, "Does Your Shape Affect Your Health?" it was pointed out that the individual with the long body and short legs would be strong physically, but might easily overeat himself and suffer with diabetes, heart failure and high blood pres-sure. The slender individual with long legs and short-body might easily suffer with tuberculosis and in-digestion, as the narrow body gives insufficient room for the lungs and stomach; the small intestine is often a few feet shorter than normal, which means less surface for the blood to absorb nourishment from food.

Now, the fact that you have a long body and short legs doesn't mean that you are bound to have heart, kidney or blood pressure ailments. Nor does the fact that you are slender mean that you will have tuber-culosis, indigestion and low blood pressure.

It simply means that there will be tendencies toward these ailments, so whatever your shape, you can protect yourself by knowing this.

PERENNIAL FLOWERS SUBJECT OF LECTURE

METCHOSIN, April 1.—Mr. Whiteoak, president of the Victoria Horticultural Society, will lecture on the evening of April 9, at Metcho-sin Hall, under the auspices of the Horticultural Section, Metcho-sin and District Community Club, on "Perennial Flowers." This lecture will take the place of the one scheduled for Monday evening, April 8. Mrs. Waide will again handle the home cooking stall at the Flower Show on April 8, and it will be advisable for those wishing to sample good farm cooking to buy early. Miss Mar-garet Bell will manage the candy stall, and it is hoped also to have some commercial exhibits on view.

POLICE DRAMA IS AT THE DOMINION

Fred MacMurray Plays Role of State Trooper in Story Entitled "Car 99"

The exploits and adventures of the Michigan State police, most famous of the nation's crime hunting forces, is the subject of "Car 99," the Paramount picture now at the Dominion Theatre, with Fred MacMurray, Sir Guy Standing and Ann Sheridan heading the cast.

Packed with thrills and mile-a-minute action, this is a colorful and authentic picture of what these peace-time soldiers must encounter in the performance of their arduous and often dangerous duty.

The stern sense of loyalty and devotion which this force inculates in its men is disclosed in the career of Fred MacMurray, who plays a rookie trooper. Urged by the girl he loves, he joins the force and soon distinguishes himself by the apprehension of criminals.

When the leader of the most dangerous gang of bank robbers falls into his hands and out again through his carelessness, the young trooper is suspended from the force. Disgruntled and bitter at first, MacMurray craves through to save the force's honor and round up the crooks after they have crippled the police radio station.

Throughout the stirring episodes of "Car 99" there is a pleasing note of humor, principally carried by the extremely capable and jovial William Frawley as a trooper lieutenant.

"GEORGIA MINSTRELS" HERE THIS WEEK-END

With a male ensemble and a brass band featured, the original "Georgia Minstrels" will come to Victoria Friday and Saturday for performances at the Empire Theatre. The chorus and brass band are said to be exceptionally good and they help a great deal to make the show the success it has proved during its present tour.

There are thirty artists with the "Georgia Minstrels." They comprise comedians, singers, dancers and performers of various kinds. In former years these minstrels were among the most popular on the road and were always looked upon as "big time" vaudeville.

Lasses Brown and Tim Owsley, the two headline comedians with the company, have had widespread experience in the art of making people laugh. They have been before the footlights for a good many years and know just what the average audiences prefer in this line.

COLUMBIA Old-time fight champions, stage celebrities, bartenders, chorus girls, politicians and other famous characters of the real old New York Bowery, frequented the sets at the United Artists studios while "The Bowery," now at the Columbia Theatre, was being filmed by Twentieth Century. Three stars—Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper from M-G-M, and George Raft from Paramount—have the leading roles.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson
 World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

A SQUEEZE ESSENTIAL
 When the dummy went down at South's final contract of six no trump on the hand below, the declarer studied for a few moments. He finally shrugged his shoulders and said, "Well, the diamonds have to break," and proceeded to play out that suit. The suit did not break, and he went down one trick.

North, dealer.
 East and West vulnerable.

3. South, with almost enough strength to bid two hearts, immediately over one diamond, cannot fail to accept his partner's slam try. He does not wish to support diamonds with only Q x and wants to be the declarer, so his black kings cannot be led through in case North does not have a high honor in one of those suits.

THE PLAY
 West opened the spade queen and the declarer, after winning with the ace in dummy, immediately attacked the diamond suit. When it did not break, a diamond trick had to be given "West," and the ace of clubs was cashed for setting trick.

South probably had never heard of the squeeze play, even after so much has been written about it. Had South first run his long suit in the hand above, he would have fulfilled his contract despite the bad diamond division, as the West player would have been completely squeezed. It is admitted that West had to have practically every important card which was outstanding for the squeeze to occur, and this possibility was not very likely. Yet it was inexcusable for South not to play for every possible chance. It could not have cost him anything to first run his other side suit and then, no matter how obtrusive a player South might be, he would not have avoided stumbling into the squeeze.

An optimistic slam contract would have been fulfilled and about 1,000 points saved.

After winning the spade ace, South should run his heart suit, as he can well afford to discard three clubs from dummy. This compels West to make three discards. He can safely throw one spade and a low club, but the third lead will prove embarrassing. He cannot relinquish his diamond stopper, and as a choice between the spade ten and the club queen, West should throw the spade. (South is clearly marked with the club king but may not hold the spade nine.)

West's choice of discard makes little difference. The king of spades drops the jack and the nine starts the squeeze all over again.

Now the club queen must go and a low club lead by South establishes his king of clubs and the ace, king and queen of diamonds as the last four tricks.

TOMORROW'S HAND
 South, dealer.
 Neither side vulnerable.

The Beautiful Derelict

by Carolyn Wells

SYNOPSIS

While Fleming Stone, famous detective, is aboard the Nokomis, bound from Nova Scotia to New York, a beautiful yacht, drifting helplessly, is started in a fog somewhere off Martha's Vineyard or Nantucket. With Captain Gregg's permission, Stone accompanies Jamison, the third mate, and his lifeboat crew to the craft. On the deck is a body of a well-dressed man of about 40, who, from papers in his pocket, is Elkins Van Zandt, of New York City. In the hold, lying face downward before the motor, is a good-looking young man of about 25, dead from a terrible wound on the back of the head. No weapon capable of having inflicted it is to be found. Stone suggests that Jamison report to the Nokomis and bring Captain Gregg, he remains with a member of the lifeboat crew named Zeb. In the younger man's pocket is a black and white cigarette case bearing the monogram W. B. or B. W. in tiny diamonds. In the cabin, on a table, is a photograph of a beautiful girl in a silver frame. Across one corner is written, "Barry from Jane." Stone tries to reconstruct the double murder. If murder it is, and finds that he is always taking a third person into account. Barry undoubtedly was the owner and captain. Van Zandt a guest. The latter, it is evident, either died a natural but painful death, or was killed by a poison, as the face is contorted. Van Zandt is a slightly built man, and Stone discards the theory that he killed Barry and then committed suicide. But, if not, who killed the handsome young yacht owner?

CHAPTER II

Back came the lifeboat from the Nokomis, bringing Captain Gregg, a prominent medical man who was one of the passengers, and Jamison, the third mate.

"Discovered anything?" Gregg said to Stone, and his snappish tone disclosed his resentment of this unwelcome intrusion which was so upsetting to his own plans.

Dr. Harmer at once went to the huddled figure on the deck and began to examine it. He soon came to a conclusion.

"There is no visible wound on this man," he said. "I see no reason to suggest murder. An autopsy must be made, if we want to learn why he died, but except for poison, no means of death are as yet indicated."

"Do you see any indication of poison?" Fleming Stone asked.

"Not precisely. Symptoms often disappear after death. A slight occlusion of the glottis is indicated, but until a post-mortem can be held I prefer to make no statement. Where is the 'other dead man'?"

Dr. Harmer went down the hatchway, followed by Captain Gregg. The horrified exclamation of the latter proved that his patient's job as captain of a steamer had not injured him to the sights he was seeing now.

When they returned, the doctor reported that the young man had obviously been felled by a terrific blow on the back of his head. "He had fallen forward, not, however, scarring his face badly, and it was the doctor's opinion that death had mouth, line, a corporation, and therefore considered soulless, might feel differently about it. The salvage award would be a goodly sum. "And you'd get a good slice of it," observed Jamison.

"Most likely," agreed the captain. "But action other than this I propose might involve hostile public criticism, than which there is no more fearful wild fowl."

"Right you are," declared Jamison, "go to it."

Captain Gregg went back to his steamer, leaving Jamison in charge of the yacht, with Fleming Stone, who preferred to stay on board.

"Salvage varies, I suppose," Stone said, "with the value of the saved craft."

"More than that," Jamison told him; "all the circumstances must be considered. Hazard, time involved, effort expended, value of equipment used, and in this case the possibility of a Federal crime having been committed. But Captain Gregg's man to do it all up proper. He's quick-witted and intelligent, more'n most, and he'll follow the rules."

"All interesting to me," Stone said; "I've never had just this experience before, and I'd like to take up the case, though no one knows as yet whose case it is."

On the Nokomis Captain Gregg at once got in touch with the coast guard base at New London, that being the nearest. He was advised to proceed to that port, taking in the yacht, and keeping the vessel, her equipment, and the bodies as nearly as possible in the condition found. He was informed that the Department of Justice representative would be notified and would take action.

The U.S. attorney would cooperate with the coast guard and would have investigators board the yacht, perhaps before it reached the port of delivery, via a coast guard craft. This, in order to get all the evidence available as soon as possible.

when the third man got on board

"Oh he went on with the other two. At the yacht club, I'd say."

"And then they started?"

Demarest looked up quickly, fearing a trap.

"Yes, started to sail."

"And the wind gave out?"

"Yes, so Wayne concluded to start the motor. You see, Mr. Stone, he was leaning over—"

"And your third man came down and whacked him over the head with some blunt instrument?"

"Looks like it."

"Why didn't he put up a fight? He was facing that way. Why didn't he see or hear him?"

"That's what I can't understand. I can't understand any of it. That's why I want to take over the case. Do you think it could be managed? There's no charge."

"It's up to me, and I'll say right now I'd be glad to have you help us. Are you at leisure?"

"I can make myself so. I want to work with you and with the police. It's the strangeness of the affair that intrigues me. I don't understand it. I can't see how its conditions are possible. Yet they are right there."

"Perhaps the father of the unfortunate young man can throw some light on conditions."

"Yet you hope so. Those two deaths seem to contradict each other. I can't reconstruct the crime."

"Always remembering that there may have been no crime."

"That condition would be harder still to reconstruct. Young Wayne couldn't have dealt himself that fatal blow."

"He could have fallen accidentally."

"But he didn't. He was attacked, and with force. His position shows that."

"Then there must have been a third man. That lightweight Mr. Van Zandt couldn't have walked down the steps and smashed Wayne and then calmly walked up again."

"When do you think the thing happened?"

"This morning, didn't it?"

"Not in my opinion. I think the murders, if they are murders, took place about twenty hours or so before the bodies were discovered."

"Is that so? Why do you think that?"

"Principally because Mr. Van Zandt had been reading yesterday's paper, and there was no paper around of today's date."

"Well, we'll know a lot more now, for here come the men from Nantucket."

In a few moments more, Fleming Stone was looking at two men, whose fine faces were drawn by distress and grief.

"I am Daniel Wayne," said one, "and this is my brother, Patrick Wayne. Young Harry Wayne is—was my son. The yacht Mad Anthony, was his property, and what this dreadful news means, I don't know. Can you enlighten me?"

BAER TO MEET WINNER OF CARNERA-LOUIS BOUT

New Explanation Given for Golden Miller's Actions

Photographer's Old-Fashioned Flash Gun Latest Reason Why Grand National Favorite Threw Jockey—Famous Incident Saves British Bookmakers Some $10,000,000

LONDON, April 1 (AP).—A new explanation of Golden Miller's failure to finish in the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree on Friday developed today when it was reported that the red hot favorite was frightened by a photographer's old-fashioned flashgun just as he was getting ready to make a jump.

The incident, it was reported, was the upshot of a feud between British and United States photographers.

A 3-1 favorite, Dorothy Paget's Golden Miller "refused" to take a jump, spilled jockey Gerry Wilson and thus saved British bookmakers some $10,000,000.

Certain British newsreel interests, it was stated, had purchased exclusive official photographing rights on the inside course, paying a price of $1,500; but American rivals rushed up high platform towers at the last minute and stationed them at strategic points on the outside course.

When British cameramen discovered this it was claimed they attempted to storm one of the towers, rocking it violently and attempting to pull it down while American photographers were grinding away on it.

RESORT TO STRATEGY
British police drove off the assailants, whereupon the British movie men were said to have resolved upon some strategy of their own. This was revealed when a flare bomb suddenly burst at a crucial moment, just as Golden Miller and the rest of the field approached the American cameras, cutting off their view and incidentally, it was said, prompting Golden Miller's $10,000,000 balk.

Reproductions of the American photographers' shots were published in London newspapers showing Golden Miller approaching the jump, one of the smallest on the course, and subsequent scenes, somewhat obscured by smoke, showing a riderless horse with jockey Wilson sprawled on the ground.

With the field narrowed down considerably since the opening of the tournament more than two weeks ago, only five matches were played yesterday evening in the Capital City and District Carpet Bowling League championship meeting, nearing its conclusion at the Foresters' Hall.

No matches are scheduled this evening, but on Wednesday the final of the women's doubles, and the semi-final of the mixed doubles, will be played.

ADMIRALS AND INDIANS WIN

Chalk Up Victories in Saanich Football League—Vale, Marigold Draw

Strawberry Vale and Marigold battled to a 2-2 draw in the opening game of Sunday's twin soccer bill presented at Hampton Road grounds by the Saanich Football League. In the second fixture, Admirals eked out a 2-1 decision over Burnside. At the Indian Reservation, Victoria Indians blanked the Bluebirds, 4-0.

Gaining a one-goal lead in the initial half, when Emery garnered the only tally in this session, Marigold were unable to hold off a determined and aggressive young Strawberry Vale eleven, and had to be content with a two-all draw.

Early in the second half Butts equalized when he met the rebound from Fulton's shot and beat the Marigold netminder. Emery netted his second tally of the match and the final score for Marigold ten minutes later to again give them a one-goal lead. Battling with determination, the Vale eleven evened the count when English headed home a corner kick.

Scoring one in each session, Admirals eked out a 2-1 victory over Burnside. Goals by Sharpe in the initial half and F. Alexander in the latter stages of the final canto, gave the eventual winners a 2-0 lead. Burnside had a number of excellent scoring chances, but their shooting was erratic. Shortly before the whistle, N. Alexander tallied for the losers, making the final score 2-1.

Results of fixtures played last week in the City Snooker championship tournament follow:
R. Dunnett, 2; D. Chunganes, 0.
O. C. Lipsey, 2; J. Scoular, 0.

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
343 Holes of Golf in One Day—Bob Swanson, Los Angeles golfer, is the latest claimant for "world's marathon golf championship" honors. Starting at midnight, June 25, 1934, at Nibley Park, Salt Lake City, Utah, Swanson played along with a powerful searchlight and at breakfast time he had gone around the hole fifteen times. After a few minutes respite, he was off again, and at the end of twelve hours' playing time he had played 207 holes. Resting periodically, he kept up the gruelling pace until 11 p.m., when the old record of 335 holes in one day was broken. Then easing up for eight more holes, he quit just before midnight. The 343 holes were played in approximately nineteen hours' playing time.

THE PHANTOM ENGINE—One of the strangest locomotives in the world is an old Collins engine which the Brazilian Government purchased in America, and put into service on July 4, 1878, in the construction of the Matto Grosso Railway in the jungles of Matto Grosso. It was abandoned in the same year when construction was stopped and lay in the jungle for nearly thirty-five years, while the undergrowth slowly proceeded to swallow it. The work on the railroad was resumed in 1912, and on April 20 of that year a gang of laborers came upon the phantom engine. A vigorous tree was growing from its funnel, the firebox and flue were in a bad state, and its fixtures were gone. The jungle had gradually crept around it and all but completely enveloped it. It was taken up and removed to the railroad shop, where it was so thoroughly repaired that within three months it was again put into service and has been constantly used since. It hauls 100 tons with ease, and is the object of affectionate care by the crew.

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
343 Holes of Golf in One Day—Bob Swanson, Los Angeles golfer, is the latest claimant for "world's marathon golf championship" honors. Starting at midnight, June 25, 1934, at Nibley Park, Salt Lake City, Utah, Swanson played along with a powerful searchlight and at breakfast time he had gone around the hole fifteen times. After a few minutes respite, he was off again, and at the end of twelve hours' playing time he had played 207 holes. Resting periodically, he kept up the gruelling pace until 11 p.m., when the old record of 335 holes in one day was broken. Then easing up for eight more holes, he quit just before midnight. The 343 holes were played in approximately nineteen hours' playing time.

THE PHANTOM ENGINE—One of the strangest locomotives in the world is an old Collins engine which the Brazilian Government purchased in America, and put into service on July 4, 1878, in the construction of the Matto Grosso Railway in the jungles of Matto Grosso. It was abandoned in the same year when construction was stopped and lay in the jungle for nearly thirty-five years, while the undergrowth slowly proceeded to swallow it. The work on the railroad was resumed in 1912, and on April 20 of that year a gang of laborers came upon the phantom engine. A vigorous tree was growing from its funnel, the firebox and flue were in a bad state, and its fixtures were gone. The jungle had gradually crept around it and all but completely enveloped it. It was taken up and removed to the railroad shop, where it was so thoroughly repaired that within three months it was again put into service and has been constantly used since. It hauls 100 tons with ease, and is the object of affectionate care by the crew.

CHAMPION TO FACE SURVIVOR OF NEXT BIG FIGHT IN FALL

Titleholder Will Take On Either Former Champion or Sensational Negro Fighter Early This Fall—Braddock May Get Shot at Crown—Wants Schmeling to Drop at Jacobs

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP).—Mike Jacobs, fight promoter, announced tonight he had arranged terms with Ancil Hoffman, manager of the heavy weight boxing champion, Max Baer, for Baer to meet the winner of the Primo Carnera-Joe Louis bout in New York next September. Carnera and the sensational Detroit negro are scheduled to meet in June in the Yankee Stadium.

under Jacobs' promotion. Jacobs, who represented the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, returned today from Chicago, where he conferred with Hoffman. No contract was signed, he said, because Baer cannot enter into another contract until he completes contractual obligations to Madison Square Garden, which has the champion's services until the end of June.

FIGHTS IN SEPTEMBER
Whether Baer retains or loses the title in June he'll fight for Jacobs in September, the promoter said. Should the Garden fail in its efforts to induce Max Schmeling to come from Germany for a title bout with Baer, Jacobs said he is willing to "loan" James J. Braddock, Jersey City veteran, to the Garden, for a title bout.

Braddock, who has been designated by the New York State Athletic Commission as its No. 1 contender, would be permitted to fight for the Garden, Jacobs said, only with the understanding that should the New Jersey heavyweight be successful in wresting the crown from Baer the Garden would reciprocate and "loan" him (Braddock) to Jacobs for a return bout with Baer in September.

WANTS JACOBS OUT
MUNICH, April 1 (AP).—Much irked because Joe Jacobs "belled Hitler" with a smoking cigar between the fingers of his saluting hand after the Max Schmeling-Stevie Hamas fight at Hamburg, the Bavarian press calls on Schmeling to give Jacobs the sack in the "interests of German-hood."

The Frankische Tageszeitung points out that both Schmeling and Walter Neusel still have Jewish managers in defiance of the "Aryan Clause" and flays the rest of the German press for its "benevolent silence" regarding these shameful conditions in the German sport world.

Toronto Leafs To Face Maroons Thursday, April 4
MONTREAL, April 1 (CP).—Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Maroons will open their series for the Stanley Cup and world's hockey honors at Toronto on Thursday, April 4, and continue it there on Saturday, April 6. The third game will be at Montreal on Tuesday, April 9.

If a fourth game is necessary it will be played at Montreal on Thursday, April 11. If the series goes the full five games the last contest will be at Toronto on Saturday, April 13.

These dates, agreed to by Conny Smythe and Thomas Arnold, league governors for Toronto and Maroons, respectively, were confirmed and announced tonight by President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League.

inner, and Vic Stevens and George Farmer. These matches will go three-four-minute rounds of two falls. All of the boys are training hard and are taking advantage of the present cards to prepare themselves for the British Columbia championships here next month under the auspices of the Canadian Scottish Regiment.

The mitt-slinging programme looks particularly attractive, with three five-round inter-city bouts, and one three-round preliminary mix as follows:
"Shorty" Patterson vs. Douglas Farmer, three two-minute rounds at 140 pounds.
Bob Parker, Canadian Scottish, Victoria, vs. Joe E. Brown, Vancouver, five two-minute rounds at 115 pounds.
"Biff" Griffin, Hilcrest, vs. "Bud" Worth, Vancouver, five two-minute rounds at 135 pounds.
Rex Carey, Canadian Scottish, Victoria, vs. Ted Bray, Vancouver, five two-minute rounds at 155 pounds.

With such an attractive card it is anticipated that another large crowd of boxing and wrestling fans will make their way to the Tillicum gymnasium tomorrow evening.

It is hoped every woman member will participate in this match, which is designed as a "get-acquainted" game, and those entering are requested to phone or send in their name to the secretary, E. 6451, as soon as possible, so that the teams may be drawn.

PROTEST OF VARSITY BASKETBALLERS RULED OUT

"No Replay" Verdict Of B.C. Association At Lengthy Meeting

Eleven Charges Made by University of British Columbia Cagers Thrown Out After Six Hours of Debating—Vote Is 4 to 2—Kelowna Series Opens This Week

VANCOUVER, April 1 (CP).—A verdict of "no replay" was returned yesterday by a jury of British Columbia basketball officials after six hours of debating on the case of Varsity vs. Victoria Blue Ribbons following an appeal by the students against the Ribbons' one-point win in the final game of the provincial senior "A" men's championship at Victoria.

The Victoria team, the referees and the fans were found "not guilty" on eleven counts cited in the Varsity protest. The collegians charged mainly that the floor was not regulation because the crowd encroached on its boundaries, that substitutions could not be properly made, that the players were "intimidated" by a bombardment of foreign matter from the crowd and that Referee Alan LeMarquand, of Victoria, erred in some of his calls.

Officials of the association stated no action could be taken on the point of the crowd encroaching on the floor because the same conditions had obtained during the first two games in Victoria and no protest was forthcoming following either of these contests.

EQUALLY GUILTY
They also pointed out Varsity supporters were equally guilty with the Victoria fans of pelting the players with various missiles and that the person who threw the Indian club did not aim it at a Varsity man, but merely tossed it out on the floor.

Regarding inability of Varsity players to obtain immediate entry into the game in substitutions, officials said this was a matter beyond the control of the scorer and timer, who sounded the proper signal but could not make themselves heard owing to the din created by the fans.

As to Referee Alan LeMarquand's decision awarding Victoria a free throw when Art Willoughby, of Varsity, thanked him for handing him the ball, the executives felt it was entirely a matter of the referee's judgment, which they were powerless to rule on. The referee, it was pointed out, was approved by the British Columbia Referees' Board as a class "A" official.

The Victoria representatives, however, announced that a repetition of last Wednesday's display by the crowd would result in the Blue Ribbons defaulting the game to the visiting team.

REFEREES CHOSEN
Dates of the senior "A" vs. senior "B" series, between Kelowna Famous Players and the Blue Ribbons, previously announced as next Wednesday and Thursday, have been changed to Friday and Saturday. Joe Polley, of Vancouver, and "Toots" Lewis, of Nanaimo, will be the referees.

The meeting was attended by Gordon Woodbridge, J. A. Barnwell

Alex McKeschie and "Red" Martin, of Victoria; Tom Lewis, Nanaimo; Art Stevenson, Kamloops; Chester Williamson, New Westminster; Joe Polley, Ken Walton, Jimmy Bardsley, Fred Bolton and John Pryor, of Vancouver.

Gordie Woodbridge, vice-president of the provincial basketball body, the Victoria spokesman at the meeting Sunday, and Manager J. A. Barnwell, of the Ribbons, returned home yesterday, and both were more than satisfied with the way the verdict was reached. It was a stormy session at times, but when the executive members retired to take a vote on the protest, it quietened down. Balloting was four to two that the charges be thrown out, a result which came as a big surprise to hundreds of Victorians who figured the Ribbons did not have a chance in the world with the voting strength in favor of the Mainland.

The Ribbons are now marking time, waiting for the arrival of the Kelowna quintette. Two members of the Interior squad are well known here. Tommy Forbes, who played with the Ribbons last season and now residing at Kelowna, and "P" Campbell, one of the greatest sharpshooters ever to graduate from Varsity. Campbell played here two years ago with the students, who lost to the Ribbons in the provincial final in a two-game total-point series.

Consistent practice has brought remarkable results for members of the Victoria police department revolver team, and yesterday, in competing in the Chief Constables' Dominion of Canada Revolver Contest, they marked up a grand total of 1,300 points out of a possible 1,500 points.

Detective Jack Rogers topped the team, as he did last year, with an aggregate of 279 out of a possible 300 points.

In the rapid fire, in which the possible score was 100 points, individual cards read: Detective Rogers, 94; Constable Phipps, 92; Policewoman Walker, 86; Inspector McLennan, 85; and Detective Caldwell, 83.

Lithuania Will Not Compete in Olympic Games

KAUNAS, Lithuania, April 1 (Havas).—Lithuania has decided against participation in the Olympic Games of 1936, scheduled to be held next year at Berlin, because of the campaign against her in Reich newspapers, angered over her sentencing to death here of four Nazis, charged with conspiring to return Klaipeda to Germany, and the imposition of prison sentences on ninety-two others.

Athletic leaders said today they were preparing plans, in consequence of this decision, for the "Baltic Olympics," to be held here in 1937.

PORT ARTHUR GAINS FINAL

Captures Western Canada Title by Whipping North Battleford, 4-1

WINNIPEG, April 1 (CP).—Picking up the challenge where their big brothers left it five years ago, Port Arthur Bear Cats tonight out-speeded North Battleford Beavers, 4-1, to win the senior hockey championship of Western Canada and the right to represent the West in Allan Cup play.

The Bear Cats proved their right to a newly-acquired team-name by winning two out of the three-game title series. They dropped the first game, 8-2, but staged a whirlwind comeback to win the remaining two by scores of 4-3 and 4-1, respectively.

The sailormen provided a spectacular finishing touch to a series that had its opening in a drab, one-sided exhibition. The first period of tonight's game ended without any score, and each team scored once in the second period. Bear Cats took the attack in the final period to score three goals and win by a wide margin in the closing minutes.

FISH AND GAME MEETING IS OFF

The meeting of the Victoria and District Fish and Game Association scheduled for Thursday evening has been postponed, it was announced yesterday. The association will hold its next meeting April 11, in the Chamber of Commerce. For further information, communicate with the secretary, E.2113.

CLEAN-UP WEEK BEGINS IN CITY

Citizens Take Up Idea of Campaign to Beautify Victoria

Business men and women, as they hurried to work yesterday, saw 200 window cards proclaiming that this was "Clean-Up, Repair, Paint-Up Week," and 10,000 homes in Greater Victoria received newspapers telling of the benefits to be derived by following the suggestions of the campaign being conducted by the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce in the interests of a healthier and more beautiful city.

CITY TAKES LEAD
Citizens readily took up the idea. Junior Chamber of Commerce officials reported last night. The city took the lead in making preparations for tearing down dilapidated city-owned buildings and offering to remove extra garbage from all places on the free collection list, in response to telephone calls to G.arden 7111 up to noon next Friday. The fire department officials said they would issue fire permits on application.

George Beck, chairman of the committee in charge of the campaign, speaking to directors of the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon yesterday, said he was well pleased with the organization to push the drive. He went on to praise William Findlay, secretary, for his services. Mr. Beck also expressed appreciation of the financial assistance given the campaign by local merchants. He intimated that even after the week was ended, the committee would continue to urge citizens to "clean-up, repair and paint-up."

SCOT-FREE

To get off scot-free is the fervent hope of every person under indictment for a violation of any of our laws; but this use of the phrase in the sense of unhurt or safe is a modification of that which it originally conveyed.

Directly, Scot comes to us from the Anglo-Saxon word of the same spelling, meaning a contribution or tax, and which in the course of time took on the significance of a fine or mulct.

So it was that if a man who got into trouble got out of it without it having cost him any money, it would be said of him that he had gotten off scot-free.

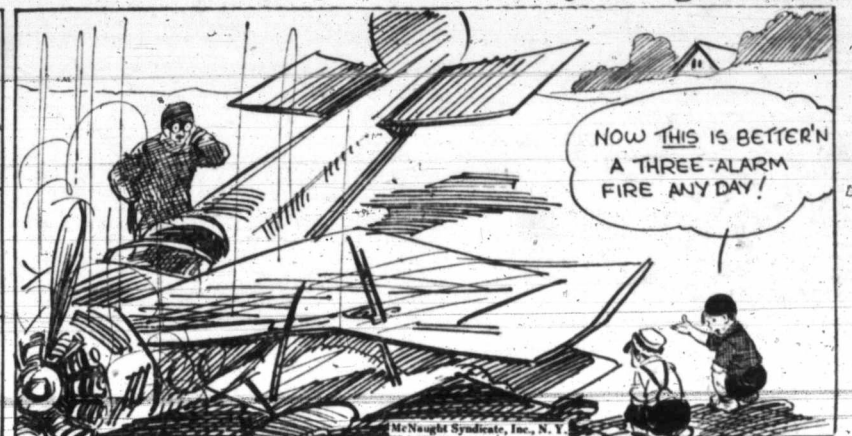

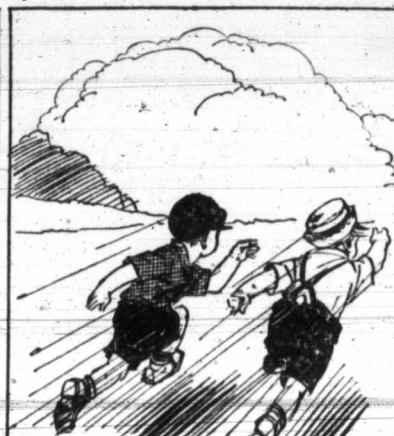

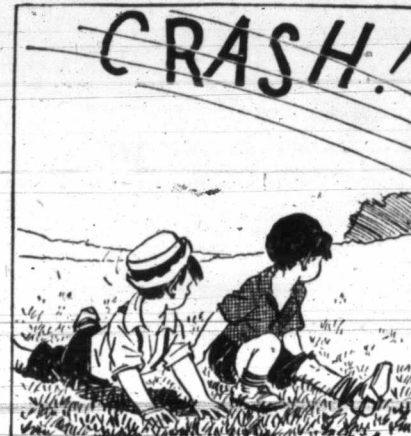

It was only a natural development of language for this expression to broaden its connotation to include not only the non-loss of money, but escape from penalty of any kind.

Alaska Steamship Company Vessels Will Not Call Here Chamber Is Told

An inquiry into charges made for American steamships calling at Victoria will be conducted by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce, directors decided at luncheon yesterday in Spencer's dining-room.

asking it to reconsider its decision, and George I. Warren, secretary will follow up the matter.

DID NOT CALL

On three occasions of late, Mr. Warren explained to the meeting, Admiral Line steamships due to dock here every Thursday night, passed up this port because it was behind schedule. The latest occurrence, it was stated, was on March 28, when the Ruth Alexander went straight to Seattle. Sixty passengers who took passage for Victoria were transferred at Seattle to a C.P.R. boat.

Mr. Warren expressed the fear that unless some action was taken by the local chamber, the Admiral Line might find it convenient to pass up this port altogether.

Representation will be made immediately to the steamship line by the chamber.

Directors foresaw in the actions of the two steamship companies direct blows to Victoria and Island transportation companies, tourist centres and general business.

B.C. BUILDINGS HAVE OVERFLOW

Annual Route March for Outside Offices Commences At Legislative Pile

Musical chairs, a Spring pastime at the Legislative Buildings, was under way again yesterday, affecting the Departments of Labor and Fisheries, and some other branches of the service.

Adam Bell, deputy Minister of Labor, accompanied by some labor officials, will be moved to the top floor of the wooden annex on Superior Street at Government.

George J. Alexander, assistant commissioner of fisheries, and his staff, are being moved in relays to Number 2 Committee Room, and eventually will occupy the erstwhile labor offices, formerly in the Lieutenant-Governor's suite on the third floor of the buildings.

Stenographers and assistants to Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, will be moved to the office formerly occupied by Mr. Bell, it was stated.

BUILDINGS CROWDED

Much overcrowding, the Buildings have been the scene of almost continual removals and rearrangements of office space in the last few years, in efforts to find makeshift accommodation for supernumerary services. The overflow has spread more and more into annexes surrounding the main pile.

Seasonal committee rooms, now vacant, are being rehoused, and will be in incidental use until the next session.
